AIR RAID ATTACKS ON ISLAND DIMINISHING

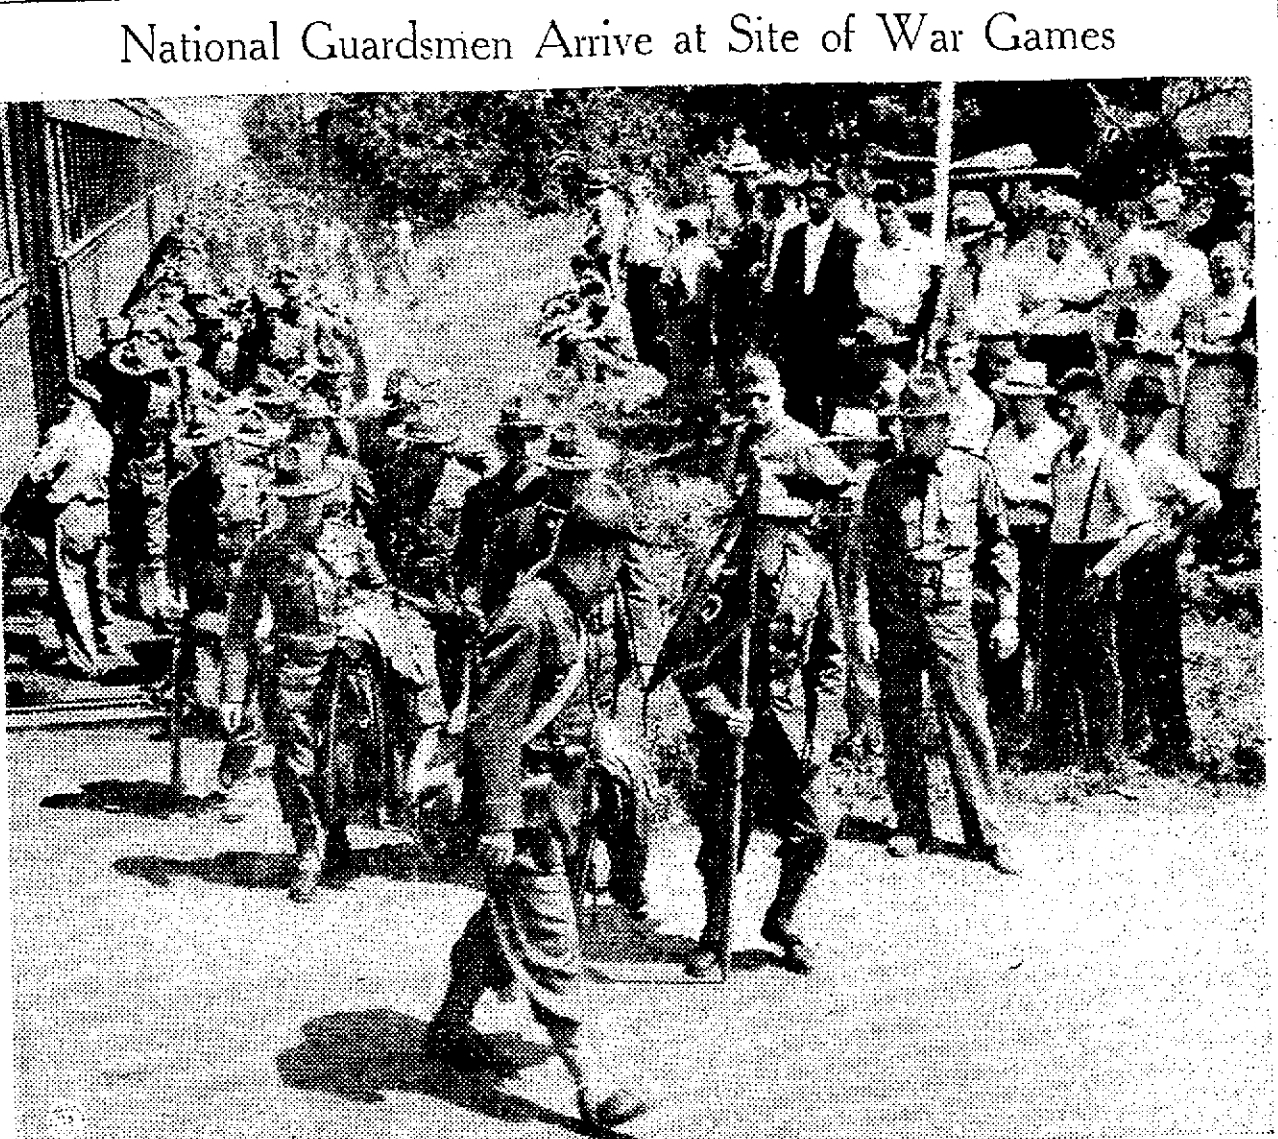

By The Associated Press
Italy gave every indication today that Premier Benito Mussolini was ready at last to risk the battle which may make or break his African empire.
Reported troop concentrations on the Libyan-Egyptian border close to the eastern Mediterranean shore, jabbing blows at Kenya and British Somaliland, and air raids on Haifa, Palestine, and other British positions in the Near East strengthened the belief that the "hour of destiny" of which Mussolini spoke two months ago upon the declaration of war was at hand.
The British were even warned to expect some Italian successes in the African campaign.
The opinion was noted in some quarters that the threat of a Nazi blitzkrieg against England was perhaps nothing more than a diversion in the strategy to conquer the African continent, seize the Mediterranean and the Suez Canal and the bridge to the East, British empire's life-line to the Far-East.
At the same time Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, declared in Il Giornale D'Italia that Italy and Germany had no designs on the western hemisphere and were concerned with the solution of Europe's problems.
Gayda wrote that Secretary of State Cordell Hull was "creating a phantom of German-Italian menace" for political purposes when he declared yesterday that the American people must be prepared to make sacrifices in preparing to arm to meet any attack from abroad.

Late Bulletins From War Zones

Washington, Aug. 7.—(A)—The British government started negotiations today for "hundreds of millions of dollars" of tanks, artillery and other war supplies, in addition to all previous allied orders.
London, Aug. 7.—(A)—R. A. Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, announced today that Britain was setting up a commission to buy the entire 1940 Egyptian cotton crop of 1,600,000 bales (800,000,000 pounds).
New York, Aug. 7.—(A)—The Russian fleet, made up of light and heavy naval units, submarines and aircraft, has sailed into the Pacific on "large scale maneuvers," said a British Broadcasting Company announcement picked up today by the NBC short wave service.
Berlin, Aug. 7.—(A)—The entire civil administration in Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg has been taken out of the hands of the military and placed under civilian officials by a decree of Adolf Hitler. Yesterday German was declared the official language in the German-occupied grand duchy of Luxembourg, whose grand duchess is a refugee abroad.

NO RELAXING OF FOOD BLOCKADE LONDON STATES

London, Aug. 7.—(A)—The Ministry of Economic Warfare said today that Britain refused to deviate from her policy of keeping food shipments out of German-occupied territory and added that there need not be any famine in Europe this winter.
Ministry experts said the continent's harvests and reserves ought to be adequate with general distribution to prevent any general famine—provided the Germans do not take the best for themselves while leaving the conquered populations hungry.
The ministry statement followed British press criticism of an implied plea by the United States Ambassador to Belgium, John Cuddeback, to ease the food blockade.

STARK IS TRAILING IN MISSOURI VOTE COUNT

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—(A)—Missouri's two big cities overweighed the state in general today, when tipped Senator Harry S. Truman into the lead in his neck-and-neck race with Gov. Lloyd C. Stark for the Democratic senatorial nomination.
Stark trailed in Jackson county (Kansas City), Truman's home.
The St. Louis Democratic organization turned against the governor in a last-minute switch, and the combination of metropolitan ballots was too much for Stark's rural advantage.

Berlin, Aug. 7.—(A)—A European continent without Jews—who would be banished to some remote corner of the globe—will be one of the prerequisites for a "German peace," Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Adolf Hitler's SS Elite Guard, said today.

Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and both occupied and unoccupied France were nations singled out for mention.

MANY DISMISSALS AND APPOINTMENTS

Harrisburg, Aug. 7.—(A)—One of the largest brackets of personnel changes since before the spring primary election was announced today by William J. Hamilton, secretary of revenue.
The large-scale appointments and dismissals are in line with pronouncements of Governor James and Republican State Chairman James F. Torrance that the administration will seek to "clean up the patronage situation" before the November general election.
Harrisburg, Aug. 7.—(A)—The State Republican organization and the volunteer Willkie clubs teamed up today in a drive to boost Republican registrations and carry Pennsylvania in November.
James F. Torrance, party chairman, set his goal as 3,000,000 registered Republicans, an increase of 500,000 over last year. William H. Harman, chairman of the Pennsylvania Willkie clubs, placed the enrollment of unregistered voters as one of the principal activities of his group.
Harman estimated a half-million voters in Pennsylvania are not registered.

Demands for Legislation to Prevent Corporation Officials From Coercing Employees Into Making Political Contributions Comes From Two Members of Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee At Washington
Washington, Aug. 7.—(A)—Demands for legislation to prevent corporation officials from coercing employees into making political campaign contributions came today from two members of the Senate campaign expenditures committee—Senators Miller (D-Ark.) and Tobey (R-Neb.).
Miller said he would ask the committee to make an immediate investigation in connection with a complaint lodged by Senator Byrnes (D-SC.). Tobey commented that he could see no reason why specific legislation could not be recommended within a short time.
Byrnes told the Senate yesterday that "corporation friends" of Wendell L. Willkie were attempting to force employees to contribute to the Republican nominee's campaign funds.
Miller said the committee had heard other reports that employers were attempting to influence workers under them to contribute to one or another political party. These reports, he indicated, would be rounded up by investigators when the committee looked into Byrnes' complaint.

GOV. RATNER WINS OUT IN KANSAS ELECTION

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 7.—(A)—Gov. Payne Ratner, a veteran campaigner at 43, and William H. Burke, a novice at 61, were nominated for governor in yesterday's primary election.
Ratner, a Republican serving his first term, polled 13,935 votes to overwhelm Jay A. Welch, Haddam banker, with 13,334, and C. D. Link, Wichita pickle manufacturer, with 13,806. These returns were from 2,039 of the state's 2,735 precincts.
Burke, a Democrat and former internal revenue collector for Kansas, received 63,705 votes in 2,080 precincts. His only opponent, S. L. Mathews, Kansas City lawyer, had 37,756.
Balloting was light after a lifeless campaign in which no candidate for a major office toured the state.

DEMS DECIDE ON A METHOD FOR DISPENSING JOBS

Harrisburg, Aug. 7.—(A)—Democratic leaders today designated the state committee as patronage dispenser in case their candidates win in November.

The decision to handle jobs through State Chairman Meredith Meyers was agreed upon by candidates for the fiscal offices and U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, seeking reelection.
F. Clair Ross, retiring state treasurer, is nominee for auditor-general. G. Harold Wagner of Wilkes-Barre is nominee for state treasurer.
Meyers announced that Guffey, Ross and Wagner agreed that "for the purpose of lending greater strength to all efforts of the state committee" recommendations for jobs would be handled through the committee "in a uniform manner, rather than have county chairmen

Governor James to be Adopted By Complanter Indians August 24th

Governor Arthur H. James will be adopted on Saturday afternoon, August 24, by the Seneca Indians living on the Complanter reservation, Warren county, it was announced today.
Elaborate preparations for an authentic adoption ceremonial for the governor are being made by these Pennsylvania's only Indians. This ceremonial will be carried out by the most skillful dancers in the Seneca Nation.
At a meeting of the Complanter heirs last night, it was decided to invite back for this occasion as many of those who hold an interest in the Complanter lands as it is possible to get.
It was pointed out that while only about forty persons live permanently on the Complanter grant, there are nearly five hundred other Complanters living and working elsewhere who look on this spot as home. Among them are lawyers, doctors, railroad men, university and public school teachers, artists and preachers.
Most of these persons return at least once a year and it is planned to make August 24th an occasion for general home-coming.
The Warren County Historical Society and the Complanter Indians Committee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies are cooperating with the Indians in organization of plans for the event.
While the adoption of Governor James into this tribe has been planned for some time, it was not until this week that the actual date was set.
It was stated here this morning that the governor has given assurance that he will be here for the occasion.

Civilian Warriors Are Disturbed Over the Possibility of Being in Army For a Year

Many of the 65,000 Guardsmen Stationed in New York State Confess "Stage Fright" at the Thought of Leaving Jobs For Buck Private's Pay
Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(A)—National Guardsmen of twelve eastern states, including hundreds of Pennsylvanians, booked for a three-and-a-half week engagement in northern New York's theatre of mock war, viewed with mingled feelings today the possibility their soldier's roles will be extended a full year.
Awaiting senate action on the guard mobilization bill, many of the 65,000 civilian warriors confessed "stage fright" at the thought of leaving present jobs for a buck private's $21 a month, while others indicated "it could be worse."
Major General William M. Haskell, 27th Division commander, regarded mobilization of at least a few divisions of the National Guard "likely."
Haskell favored, as did other officers, at least a two-week period permitting the summoned guardsmen to "straighten out private affairs" before jumping from the war games into full duty.
Another high-ranking officer in the first army expressed similar belief of early mobilization of the guard but added army boards will give full consideration to requests for exemptions.
"We will let no families go in want because they can't be supported on army pay," he said.

19 ARE MISSING AS A RESULT OF TROPICAL STORM

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—(A)—Nineteen persons are missing today and thousands of others marooned by tidal waters as a fifth tropical disturbance continued moving westward along the Louisiana coastline toward Texas.
The two-day-old storm pushed gulf waters to near record heights in the many lakes and bays and sent trappers and fishermen scrambling for refuge to court houses, schools houses and other buildings located inland.
The weather bureau said the storm's center would move inland attended by winds of 50 to 60 miles per hour.
The 19 persons were reported missing out of Morgan City, La., on fishing trips, and included the Rev. Jules T. Toups, a Catholic priest, and C. Russell Brownell, a member of the state legislature.
The Jacksonville, Fla., weather bureau announced that a slight tropical storm moving west northward was central over the southeast Bahamas early today, attended by a "considerable area of fresh to strong winds and squalls."
Caution was advised the entire Bahamian region today and tonight, and along the southeast Florida coast tonight.

Informal Talk May Be Delivered by Chief Executive at Party at Hyde Park Thursday

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(A)—President Roosevelt's stay at his Hudson valley home took on a political hue today when the temporary White House announced that Secretaries Wallace and Hopkins were coming up to see the chief executive.
BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(A)—A tea and garden party for Democratic women from five New York counties will be held tomorrow on President Roosevelt's estate, and the chief executive may put in an appearance for his first political talk since he accepted a third term nomination.
Sponsors of the affair, to be held at Mrs. Roosevelt's Valkill cottage, said today that, if the president did not leave for another fence inspection trip, they were confident he would at least make an informal speech.
A projected first-hand survey of spots where portions of the $10,000,000 defense fund are being put to work may carry the chief executive into New England late this week.
The latest report was that he would visit Boston's navy yard and naval stations at Portsmouth, N. H., and New London, Conn.
Mr. Roosevelt has been asked to view war maneuvers of 91,000 members of the First Army and the National Guard in upstate New York on August 17, but has not said definitely whether he would do so.
The president told newsmen yesterday that World War veterans might be asked to become home guards.
The president entertained four Latin American delegates to the Pan American conference at Havana at a luncheon yesterday.

PROMPT PASSAGE IS URGED

Scheduled for Consideration Tomorrow Compulsory Military Training Bill Would Require Registration of Male Citizens between 21 and 30 Inclusive, From Which Upwards of 1,000,000 Would be Selected Next Twelve Months

"HOME GUARD" MOVE GATHERING HEADWAY

BY JACK BELL
Washington, Aug. 7.—(A)—Prompt enactment of compulsory military training legislation was recommended to the senate by its military committee today with the statement that "reasonable prudence demands an immediate and substantial increase in our armed forces."
"It would be criminal," the committee reported, "to give the notion a false sense of security by the mere possession of defensive armaments and a corresponding lack of trained men."
Scheduled for consideration tomorrow, the legislation, which the committee previously had approved by a 13 to 3 vote, would require registration of male citizens between 21 and 30 years of age, inclusive. From this group, upwards of 1,000,000 men would be selected within the next 12 months for a year of military training. They would thereafter take their place in the reserves.
Presented along with the committee report on the legislation was a minority report, previously made public, asserting that "regimentation of American life as provided for by the bill in peacetime is abhorrent to the ideals of patri-

The area in which the body was found, police said, is frequented by vagrants, known to authorities as "wood dogs."

Demands for Legislation to Prevent Corporation Officials From Coercing Employees Into Making
Political Contributions Comes From Two Members of Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee
At Washington

GUFFEY CRITICIZED
BY SEN. VAN NUYS

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Demands for legislation to prevent corporation officials from coercing employees into making political campaign contributions came today from two members of the Senate campaign expenditures committee—Senators Miller (D-Ark.)
and Tobey (R-Neb.).

Miller said he would ask the committee to make an immediate investigation in connection with a complaint lodged by Senator Byrnes (D-SC.). Tobey commented that he could see no reason why specific legislation could not be recommended within a short time.

Byrnes told the Senate yesterday that "corruption friends" of Wendell L. Willkie were attempting to force employees to contribute to the Republican nominee's campaign funds.

Miller said the committee had heard other reports that employers
were attempting to influence workers under them to contribute to one or another political party.
These reports, he indicated, would be rounded up by investigators when the committee looked into Byrnes' complaint.

Byrnes' demand for an investigation climaxed a political discussion during which Senator Van Nuy (D-Ind.) gave reporters a

GOV. RATNER WINS OUT
IN KANSAS ELECTION

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 7.—(P)—
Gov. Payne Ratner, a veteran campaigner at 43, and William H.
Burke, a novice at 61, were nominated for governor in yesterday's primary election.

Ratner, a Republican serving his first term, polled 150,935 votes to overwhelm Jay A. Welch, Haddam banker, with 18,334, and C. D.
Link, Wichita pickle manufacturer, with 13,806. These returns were from 2,039 of the state's 2-735 precincts.

Burke, a Democrat and former internal revenue collector for Kansas, received 63,705 votes in 2,080
precincts. His only opponent, S.
L. Mathews, Kansas City lawyer, had 17,756.

Balloting was light after a lifeless campaign in which no candidate for a major office toured the state.

DEMS DECIDE ON A METHOD FOR DISPENSING JOBS

Harrisburg, Aug. 7.—(P)— Democratic leaders today designated the state committee as patronage dispenser in case their candidates win in November.

Two state offices at stake in the election are those of auditor-general and state treasurer, the only major posts now held by Democrats on Capitol Hill.

The decision to handle jobs
through State Chairman Meredith Meyers was agreed upon by candidates for the fiscal officers and U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, seeking reelection.

F. Clair Ross, retiring state treasurer, is nominee for auditor general. G. Harold Wagner of Wilkes-Barre is nominee for state treasurer.

Meyers announced that Guffey, Ross and Wagner agreed that "for the purpose of lending greater strength to all efforts of the state committee" recommendations for jobs would be handled through the committee "in a uniform manner,"
rather than have county chairmen

Governor James to be Adopted By Complanter Indians August 24th

Governor Arthur H. James will be adopted on Saturday afternoon,
August 24, by the Seneca Indians living on the Complanter reservation, Warren county, it was announced today.

Elaborate preparations for an authentic adoption ceremony for the governor are being made by these Pennsylvania's only Indians.
This ceremonial will be carried out by the most skillful dancers in the Seneca Nation.

At a meeting of the Complanter tribe last night, it was decided to invite back for this occasion as many of those who hold an interest in the Complanter lands as it is possible to get.

It was pointed out that while only about forty persons live permanently on the Complanter
grant, there are nearly five hundred other Complanters living and working elsewhere who look on this spot as home. Among them are lawyers, doctors, railroad men, university and public school teachers, artists and preachers.

Most of these persons return at least once a year and it is planned to make August 24th an occasion for general home-coming.

The Warren County Historical Society and the Complanter Indian Committee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies are cooperating with the Indians in organization of plans for the event.

While the adoption of Governor James into this tribe has been planned for some time, it was not until this week that the actual date was set.

It was stated here this morning that the governor has given assurance that he will be here for the occasion.

Civilian Warriors Are Disturbed Over the Possibility of Being in Army For a Year

Many of the 65,000
Guardsmen Stationed in New York State Confess
"Stage Fright" at the Thought of Leaving Jobs
For Buck Private's Pay

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)— National Guardsmen of twelve eastern states, including hundreds of Pennsylvanians, booked for a three-and-a-half week engagement in northern New York's theatre of mock war, viewed with mingled feelings today the possibility their soldier's roles will be extended a full year.

Awaiting senate action on the guard mobilization bill, many of the 65,000 civilian warriors confessed "stage fright" at the thought of leaving present jobs for a buck private's $21 a month, while others indicated "it could be worse."

Major General William N. Haskell, 27th Division commander, regarded mobilization of at least a few divisions of the National Guard
"likely."

Haskell favored, as did other officers, at least a two-week period permitting the summoned guardsmen to "straighten out private affairs" before jumping from the war games into further duty.

Another high-ranking officer in the first army expressed similar belief of early mobilization of the guard but added army boards will give full consideration to requests for exemptions.

"We will let no families go in want because they can't be supported on army pay," he said.

FINANCES DISCUSSED
BY STATE TREASURER

Harrisburg, Aug. 7.—State Treasurer F. Clair Ross said today that "for the third consecutive month, Pennsylvania has been spending more for payrolls and general government expenses than it received as income."

Ross, who is Democratic candidate for state auditor, said the general fund disbursements for this 90 day period exceeded receipts by more than $11,000,000, and that funds for payment of general expenses of the commonwealth dropped lower on July 31 "than any other end-of-the-month balancing since September a year ago."

"General fund balances have declined steadily from $24,708,810 in May to $17,334,240 in July," Ross observed.

VIOLENT STORM
IN EASTERN AREA

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(P)—Violent wind and rain storms, accompanied by thunder and lightning swept over eastern Pennsylvania
last night, interrupting electric service, flooding streets and in some districts flattening crops.

In Philadelphia electrical disturbances silenced radio station WFIL for nearly two hours and another station, WIP, was off the air for 90 minutes. An area of six downtown blocks was blackedout when power failed.

High winds bowled over utility poles and trees and the nearly one inch of rain flooded central Phila-

"HOME GUARD" MOVE
GATHERING HEADWAY

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)— Prompt enactment of compulsory military training legislation was recommended to the senate by its military committee today with the statement that "reasonable prudence demands an immediate and substantial increase in our armed forces."

"It would be criminal," the committee reported, "to give the nation a false sense of security by the mere possession of defensive armaments and a corresponding lack of trained men."

Scheduled for consideration tomorrow, the legislation, which the committee previously had approved by a 13 to 3 vote, would require registration of male citizens between 21 and 30 years of age, inclusive. From this group, upwards of 1,000,000 men would be selected within the next 12 months for a year of military training. They would thereafter take their place in the reserves.

Presented along with the committee report on the legislation
was a minority report, previously made public, asserting that "regimentation of American life as provided for by the bill in peacetime

ROADSIDE THICKET
SCENE OF MURDER

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 7.—(P)—
The gagged and stabbed body of Miss Rose Lodi, 22, attractive employee of a Springfield Match Company, was found today, partly disrobed, in a roadside thicket.

The body, which bore stab wounds in the throat and chest,
was discovered by the girl's father,
Angelo. She had been missing
since early yesterday afternoon,
disappearing while enroute to her employment.

The area in which the body was found, police said, is frequented by vagrants, known to authorities as "wood dogs."

5,384 Gall Stones
Taken From Woman

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 7.— (P)—Physicians here searched medical books today for a case that matched one at a Wilson hospital, where 5,384
gall stones were taken from a 50-year-old negro woman—a record number for this section.

The woman was doing nicely
today and hospital attendants said she would recover.

The stones varied from the size of a pea to a grain of salt. It took nurses two nights to complete the final count

Informal Talk May Be Delivered by Chief Executive at Party at Hyde Park Thursday

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)—
President Roosevelt's stay at his Hudson valley home took on a political hue today when the temporary White House announced that Secretaries Wallace and Hopkins were coming up to see the chief executive.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)—
A tea and garden party for Democratic women from five New York
counties will be held tomorrow
on President Roosevelt's estate, and the chief executive may put in an appearance for his first political talk since he accepted a third term nomination.

Sponsors of the affair, to be held at Mrs. Roosevelt's Valkill cottage, said today that, if the president did not leave for another defense inspection trip, they were confident he would at least make an informal speech.

A projected first-hand survey of spots where portions of the $10-000,000,000 defense fund are being put to work may carry the chief executive into New England late this week.

The latest report was that he would visit Boston's navy yard
and naval stations at Portsmouth,
N. H., and New London, Conn.

Mr. Roosevelt has been asked to view war maneuvers of 81,000 members of the First Army and the National Guard in upstate
New York on August 17, but has not said definitely whether he would do so.

The president told newsmen yesterday that World War veterans might be asked to become home guards.

The president entertained four Latin American delegates to the Pan American conference at Hay-ana at a luncheon yesterday.

Casual Slaughters

By VIRGINIA HANSON

YESTERDAY: Kay finds the notebook again and decipher's Sandra's message—"Kay, Read Lover's Return." Assuming herself that the apartment is empty she starts to read the manuscript. Then, through a mirror, she sees that the doorbell is turning.

Chapter 41

Time Stands Still

I had forgotten to latch that bedroom screen.

My senses came back to me. I reached a wildly trembling hand to the light bulb of the lamp on the table and turned it until darkness fell like a heavy curtain. Then I slid out of my chair and down on all fours under the table. The chair teetered for an instant as I released my weight from it, then it crashed heavily to the floor.

I heard the door flung open against it, the clatter of metal on the polished floor and the muffled thud of a falling body—a thud made sickening and horrifying by the lack of any vocal accompaniment of grunts or curses. Only that silent, no-o-v-i-n-g presence quietly disentangling itself from the fallen chair and preparing to stalk me.

If I could reach the corridor door—

I began to crawl toward it, hoping my sense of direction would not fail me, praying that my shaking arms and legs would support me, fighting a stupefying terror at the knowledge that I was shut in with Sandra's murderer.

Silence now. I might have been alone in the room. I held my breath for fear it would betray me and my heartbeats shook my whole body. Then, almost simultaneously, there were two sounds—the faint creak of a board in the corridor, and the scratching of a match within the room.

Not two yards from me a small flame licked the darkness, showing me a white hand and a face that was black and blank except for two malevolent eyes. It was then that I lost all control and screamed.

The flame described an arc in the air and went out. In the same instant steel hands were at my throat in a lunging attack that threw me violently backward, and my head was being beaten with dogged, diabolic intent against the hard, bare floor.

I heard the doorknob rattle and the drive of a body against the locked door. Then a bomb exploded in my head and I heard nothing more.

'Back To Stay'

I WENT places for a while. The screaming wind between the worlds caught me up and whirled me past Mars, past the flaming outer planets, and there abandoned me to the long plunge back to earth. Time stood still while I dove through space until I brought up quivering, with daylight striking me like a flying arrow.

An involuntary groan shattered my skull into a thousand pieces, then I felt hands on my shoulders forcing me back and down, and I found that I still had a little fight left in me.

"Hold it!" said a startled, familiar voice. My shoulders were pinned down, my arms pinioned. The shining pain began to subside. Gradually it came to me that there was a pillow under my tortured head, and that the voice was telling me that I was all right.

I opened my eyes a wary slit and saw Adam's face, ludicrously concerned, close to mine. I saw other things, too—blank, unfamiliar walls, a screen in front of a window. The air smelled antiseptic. I began to draw conclusions, and to remember. It was coming back to me—that turning doorknob, the awful stalking in the dark.

"Kay, don't you know me?" he was asking anxiously.

There must be something I ought to tell him while this moment of sanity lasted.

"Lover's Return," I whispered.

"Yes, dear. I'm back. Back to stay." There was a catch in his voice. He put his cheek, rough and unshaven, against mine.

He was being very dense. And my head hurt.

"Not you," I murmured crossly.

He sat up and said "What?" in such a funny voice that I had to pry my eyes open and submit to the torture of focusing them so I could see him. His thick white lashes were raved as if with blond mascara. The puffy blue circles under his eyes were the only color on his face anywhere. His expression of misery was obscuringly satisfying. I waited a moment before I dispelled it.

"Manuscript," I said at last.

"Oh, that," he dismissed it with a wave of his hand and continued to look at me with such brooding anxiety that I grew restive.

"You look as if you'd been trying to drink New York dry," I observed, and closed my eyes again on the fireworks that long speech had set off.

"You're no magazine cover yourself," he said absently.

ADDITIONAL PAVING AUTHORIZED BY BOROUGH COUNCIL AT AUGUST SESSION; PARKING METER PROFIT

Additional paving of borough streets was the principal business transacted by borough council in its regular August meeting last evening, a number of paving ordinances being passed on first and second readings.

Councilman D. W. Lewis, chairman of the special projects committee, presented the following ordinances authorizing additional improved streets:

Canton street, from Pennsylvania avenue north to the south side of Ridge avenue; North Carver, from Pennsylvania avenue to Jackson avenue; and Wayne street, from Main to Cayuga.

An ordinance extending the sanitary sewer system on Lacy street from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue southerly 225 feet was also passed on two readings. The committee reported receipt of a petition to pave Cayuga avenue between Wayne and St. Clair streets.

The chairman reported satisfactory progress on the W. P. A. projects, stating that with the dropping of the water stage the west side sewer work was facilitated, but that the south side project has been slightly impeded by the shifting of labor to the former job. The various blacktop projects are progressing rapidly and the curbing on Buchanan and East Third avenue is completed.

Councilman Lewis recommended that the burgess and council sponsor the N. Y. A. project, providing labor at the Warren General Hospital for general repair work, the recommendation being approved.

Of special interest was the report of the police committee. Chairman J. H. DeFrees reading a summary of the parking meter receipts, which revealed that since the first 85 meters were put in operation on September 1, 1939, a net profit of $1,635.46 had been realized as of July 30 of this year. The machines which cost $4,727.97, have returned $6,363.43. Collections during the month of July were $639.51.

Eleven arrests were made for drunkenness and disorderly conduct during the month and $111.00 was received in fines for parking violations.

On recommendation of the police committee, council authorized the purchase of the parking lane lining machine which was used in marking the streets this spring at a considerable saving of labor, paint and time. The machine was purchased for $235.81.

A police regulation clarifying the parking in front of the post-office was adopted, providing five-minute parking from the intersection of Third avenue north 105 feet on Liberty and from the intersection of Liberty street 155 feet east on Third avenue, this regulation to be in effect 24 hours a day.

Councilman H. S. Hampson, chairman of the fire committee, submitted the report of the department for the first six months of the year. Ninety-nine calls were answered to blazes involving $507,370 worth of property with a loss of $11,593.76. The emergency truck took care of 48 of the calls, with a loss of $528, seven of the calls being answered by the emergency truck.

Purchase of fire hose not to exceed $500 was authorized.

The matter of a driveway to lead into the parking lot at the proposed new S. S. Kresge building on Second street, the building to be occupied by the Loblaw Groceries, was brought to attention of council by Chairman A. J. Sealise of the street committee and called for further investigation after considerable discussion.

Permission was granted two residents of Glade township to construct sanitary sewers to join the Conewango avenue sewer, recommendation being made by Councilman G. H. Klinefelter.

Council approved the construction of a sidewalk at the cost of the borough on the north side of Pennsylvania avenue east from Hammond road to the Lacy school walk, the walk to be built under the street.

Work on this project will begin next week.

Upon recommendation of Councilman Lewis, council will advertise for bids on 1,000 tons of bituminous surface material to be used on street paving projects.

Mrs. Daisy Campbell appeared before council relative to the proposed paving of Plum street, stating that a petition for improving the street had been submitted to council some time ago and was assured that the matter would be looked into in the near future.

Those attending the meeting were: President F. W. Waite, Councilmen W. H. Murphy, A. J. Sealise, W. R. Walsh, R. M. Krebs, P. A. Mahaffy, G. H. Klinefelter, J. H. DeFrees, E. W. Fatchen, D. W. Lewis, D. L. Baldensperger, H. S. Hampson, C. A. Willard and R. F. Morrison; Burgess R. W. Steber, Solicitor S. D. Blackman, Borough Engineer C. W. Barwis, Street Commissioner E. D. Beck, Secretary Marjorie L. Daugherty.

"You're no magazine cover yourself," he said absently.

He got up from the edge of the bed, and when I stole a glance at him presently he was pacing the floor.

"Don't go so far away," I said, in a voice that insisted on fading to a whisper.

He came back then and took my hand between both of his. "I'm still scared," he said huskily. "You've been unconscious for eight hours. Your eyes were open and staring and you didn't seem to breathe. They said you'd be all right, but — I've been here all night. I swore I'd never leave you again if —"

Tears welled into his eyes. "Don't — please don't," I begged. "It wasn't your fault. And I feel quite well, really."

But he went on as if I had not spoken.

I knew what a fool I'd been when I read about Sandra in the afternoon papers. I was in Penn Station waiting for a train that would have brought me here this afternoon. I went to Mitchell Field instead and found an army pilot to fly me out here. And then I was too late. They were carrying you out to the ambulance when my taxi pulled up. They thought at first your skull was fractured — that mop of hair was all that saved you —"

"You can tell your redheaded grandchildren that," I murmured. He tried to laugh, but it wasn't a very successful effort.

A nurse came in then and took my pulse and my temperature and engaged in a brief argument with Adam in which he lost, of course.

He stood by the bed for a moment, looking down at me intently as if to assure himself that I was really there.

"Go to sleep," he said huskily, then vanished through the door the nurse was pointedly holding open.

No Curiosity

I ATER in the morning Captain Jones came in with a strange gray-haired officer whom I had never seen. He proved to be the senior surgeon, just returned from leave. He was friendly and reassuring as he felt gently of my aching head, examined my eyes and asked me what seemed ridiculous questions until I remembered that they do that to football players who have been knocked out.

My neck was stiff, too, and for a moment I couldn't think why until I remembered those steel hands.

The senior surgeon nodded when I told him about it, but when he spoke it was across me, to Captain Jones.

"Take a look at these bruises," he said dryly. "Nothing phony about them." Captain Jones, I saw with surprise, was very red. "And you might read that chapter on 'Malingering' in Ford's Military Medical Administration. Not that you'll find much application for it in peacetime," he added more tolerantly, "but it's interesting reading. Surprising to what lengths people will go to fake a disability. He says, if I remember correctly, that a copper penny, bound on with a cloth soaked in vinegar, leaves a very fair imitation of a bruise."

It was about then that I began to get the drift of the conversation.

"You're talking about Sandra, aren't you?" I demanded, and then remembered something. "So that was why she got the vinegar from the mess hall — and the towel Felicia said looked as if Jeff had been polishing brass with it."

The surgeon looked at me sharply. "Any idea why she should want to fake a black eye?" he asked.

"Yes, Oh, yes. To take out a grudge on Jeff. I'm glad I found that out. I don't feel so sorry for her now. She had potentialities, didn't she?"

"She had indeed," He paused, looked from Captain Jones to me in some embarrassment. "Of course I was only teasing the captain here for not having discovered the fake when he first examined the body. Anyone might have overlooked it. Matter of fact, he's had a good bit on his mind this past fortnight. Three violent deaths, and his wife very ill in Chicago. She's all right now, I'm glad to say, and the mother of a fine boy. The scamp arrived ahead of schedule, otherwise I wouldn't have been on leave."

I congratulated the captain and saw that he looked nicer when he smiled. Then the surgeon delivered his opinion that I was in my right mind and had nothing to worry about. X-rays taken during the night showed no fracture; my coma had probably been due ninety per cent to shock. I should remain in bed for a few days to give any mild concussion time to subside.

They went away, and I partook sparingly of a modest lunch. Afterward I slept. In my dazed mental state I had no curiosity about the night's events. It was easier to lie there, safe and thankful, thinking of nothing but my aches and pains and the blessing of being alive.

Additional paving of borough streets was the principal business transacted by borough council in its regular August meeting last evening, a number of paving ordinances being passed on first and second readings.

Councilman D. W. Lewis, chairman of the special projects committee, presented the following ordinances authorizing additional improved streets:

Canton street, from Pennsylvania avenue north to the south side of Ridge avenue; North Carver, from Pennsylvania avenue to Jackson avenue, and Wayne street, from Main to Cayuga.

An ordinance extending the sanitary sewer system on Lacy street from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue southerly 225 feet was also passed on two readings. The committee reported receipt of a petition to pave Cayuga avenue between Wayne and St. Clair streets.

The chairman reported satisfactory progress on the W. P. A. projects, stating that with the dropping of the water stage the west side sewer work was facilitated, but that the south side project has been slightly impeded by the shifting of labor to the former job. The various blacktop projects are progressing rapidly and the curbing on Buchanan and East Third avenue is completed.

Councilman Lewis recommended that the burgess and council sponsor the N. Y. A. project, providing labor at the Warren General Hospital for general repair work, the recommendation being approved.

Of special interest was the report of the police committee, Chairman J. H. DeFrees reading a summary of the parking meter receipts, which revealed that since the first $5 meters were put in operation on September 1, 1939, a net profit of $1,658.46 had been realized as of July 30 of this year.

The machines which cost $4,737.97, have returned $6,396.43. Collections during the month of July were $639.51.

Eleven arrests were made for drunkenness and disorderly conduct during the month and $111.00 was received in fines for parking violations.

On recommendation of the police committee, council authorized the purchase of the parking lane lining machine which was used in marking the streets this spring at a considerable saving of labor, paint and time. The machine was purchased for $235.81.

A police regulation clarifying the parking in front of the post-office was adopted, providing five-minute parking from the intersection of Third avenue north 105 feet on Liberty and from the intersection of Liberty street 155 feet east on Third avenue, this regulation to be in effect 24 hours a day.

Councilman H. S. Hampson, chairman of the fire committee, submitted the report of the department for the first six months of the year. Ninety-nine calls were answered to blazes involving $507,370 worth of property with a loss of $11,593.76. The emergency truck took care of 48 of the alarms. There were 12 calls in July with a loss of $528, seven of the calls being answered by the emergency truck.

Purchase of fire hose not to exceed $500 was authorized.

The matter of a driveway to lead into the parking lot at the proposed new S. S. Kresge building on Second street, the building to be occupied by the Loblaw Groceries, was brought to attention of council by Chairman A. J. Scalise, of the street committee, and tabled for further investigation after considerable discussion.

Permission was granted two residents of Glade township to join the Coneywango avenue sewer, recommendation being made by Councilman G. H. Klinefelter.

Council approved the construction of a sidewalk at the cost of the borough on the north side of Pennsylvania avenue east from Hammond road to the Lacy school walk, the walk to be built under WPA. Work on this project will begin next week.

Upon recommendation of Councilman Lewis, council will advertise for bids on 1,000 tons of bituminous surface material to be used on street paving projects.

Mrs. Daisy Campbell appeared before council relative to the proposed paving of Plum street, stating that a petition for improving the street had been submitted to council some time ago and was assured that the matter would be looked into in the near future.

Those attending the meeting were: President F. W. Waite, Councilmen W. H. Murphy, A. J. Scalise, W. R. Walsh, R. M. Krebs, P. A. Mahaffy, G. H. Klinefelter, J. H. DeFrees, E. W. Patchen, D. W. Lewis, D. L. Baldensperger, H. S. Hampson, C. A. Miller, R. H. Truesler, F. C. Willard and R. F. Morrison; Burgess R. W. Steber, Solicitor S. D. Blackman, Borough Engineer C. W. Barwis, Street Commissioner E. D. Beck, Secretary Marjorie L. Daugherty.

HOSPITAL PLAN WIDENS

The movement to widen the scope of hospital treatment through the plan directly sponsored by the Warren General Hospital is continuing to make progress
throughout the entire Warren district, according to reports.

A highly diversified cross section of general business and industry are represented among the organizations participating. One of the most recent groups
to enroll for the hospitalization protection is composed of members of the Painters, Decorators & Paper-
hangers Local Union, No. 1137.

Each of those enrolling had the opportunity to bring in the members of his family. Those protected may go to the hospital for a total of 21 days each per
contract year as such hospital treatment is necessary.
The member's own physician makes the recommendation for hospital service.

HOW MANY ARE LIKELY TO BE CALLED

Here is a formula worked out in Washington by
which an average American community can figure roughly how many of its boys are likely to be sent to army camps this fall—if the conscription bill now before Congress is enacted:

On the basis of census figures, 9.1 per cent of the average community's population would be men from 21 to 30, who probably would be the first to register
for compulsory military training.

There are about 11,500,000 men of those ages in
the United States, and the Army-Navy Selective Service committee estimates that about 4,500,000 of them—39 per cent—would be fit and free for immediate unlimited service.

That percentage would vary from locality to locality, depending on general health, employment,
marriage and other factors.

Of the 4,500,000 some 400,000 or 8.8 per cent
would be taken in the October first enrollment, according to tentative War Department plans.

home town's population. Multiply the population by
.091 to get the number who will register first. Multiply the answer by .39 to get the number immediately ready for service. Multiply that answer by .088
to get the number in the first draft.

If you only want the final answer, multiply the population by .0031. For a city of 100,000, the final answer figures out to 310 or 312, allowing for fractions here and there.

On this basis it may be safe to assume that the
number that would be called from Warren borough
may be around thirty, or a total of approximately 140 from the county.

WORKING WOMEN

In 1890, one married woman in 23 worked outside
the home. In 1930 it had become one in eight. It is expected that the 1940 census will show one in five or six.

This is revealed in a report to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs by Dr. Ruth Shalleross, director of research.

Ask the average man or woman what he thinks
of this. The answer will be, in a majority of cases,
"I'm against it." This attitude is reflected in efforts in 26 states within the past few years to restrict employment of married women. Few such efforts have been successful.

Why? Because, as Dr. Shalleross' survey shows,
two-thirds of the married women who work hold
poorly paid jobs in domestic service, or lowest grade
industrial jobs to which they would not cling except
for necessity. It is usually the unemployed or poorly
paid wage earner in a family who sends the wife outside the home to work.

Music lovers who were disappointed last evening
when it was found necessary to postpone the band concert at the Lary school should find consolation in the announcement that it is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, weather permitting.

An interesting event is to take place tomorrow afternoon at Beatty playground when the finals will be held in the annual doll show contest.

7000 STEEL MEN ARE IN LINE FOR WAGE SETTLEMENT

Washington, Aug. 7.—Republic
Steel will probably be asked to pay slightly more than $2,000,000 in back wages to 7000-odd workers
as a result of the famous "little steel" strike of three years ago.

Several months ago the federal courts upheld a Labor Board ruling that Republic must re-hire all ex-workers and must pay them back wages from the day the strike began to the date of rehiring.

Since then, the board has been busy on the job of finding the men, getting a case history of each and determining how much money
each man has coming to him—all preparatory to presenting the bill to Republic.

It has been a long, complicated task. Congress almost spoiled it by cutting off the appropriation for the board's research division—
which the Smith committee had branded as a nest of Communists—
and the research division was the only branch of the board
equipped to do the job.

The board, however, found a way around the obstacle. The research division passed out of existence to be replaced by a branch
called the technical service division. Its director is the boss of the old research division, Dr. David J. Saposs, and its staff is the same—except that it is 45 per cent
smaller.

Sub-regional offices were opened
in five Ohio cities—Cleveland,
Youngstown, Canton, Massillon,

and Niles—and claims have been filed by 7199 ex-workers (not counting 200-odd which were thrown out as invalid. A preliminary check has been made on these claims, and tabulations have been made showing how much
each man is entitled to.

The job is far from finished. For one thing, between 700 and 800 of
the claims were faulty in one way
or another—gave insufficient information, or were garbled somehow.

Present estimate is that the total bill will be a little over $2-$3,000,000. It may go closer to
$3,000,000, however, depending on
how certain claims are decided.

For instance, practically all of
the ex-workers are back at work
now, but a lot of them assert they
got poorer jobs, at lower wages,
than they had when they were fired. Question for the board is:
Do such men get back pay only up
to the date of re-hiring, or must
the company also pay them the difference between what they are getting now and what they were getting before the strike?

After the tabulation is complete
and the board presents the bill,
Republic may if it chooses contest
the figures. In that case, board
experts and Republic officials will probably check each case against
the company's own records.

One interesting rumor heard
here is that the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee may offer Republic a horse trade when the bill
comes in. If, for instance, Republic is due to pay $2,000,000,
SWOC might suggest that the bill

could be cut in half if Republic
would sign a union contract.

That's pretty "ifty" so far. For one thing, it would be up to the
union to get each of the 7000
claimants to agree to a cut in his
compensation, and some of the boys probably wouldn't care much
for it.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Note to Wendell L. Willkie: If you go
through with that "factory door campaign" idea you are talking about, won't you be taking a leaf from the campaign tactics of your young floor manager, Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota?

That 33-year-old South St. Paul
flash waged his campaign for the governorship on a shoestring and
used a back door and street corner method of campaigning. He climbed into a car and covered
his state like a midday sun. He traveled more than 50,000 miles
and averaged about nine speeches
a day, nearly always to small
groups—often no larger than
those which might assemble on
any street corner at lunch time.

It was effective for Stassen, too.
He knocked a powerful political
organization into a cocked hat
and swept into office with 50 thousand votes to spare, telling me
that the old-line politicians out
that way haven't recovered yet.

Whether you, Mr. Willkie, can use that same method as effectively by rapping on factory
doors and calling out the work-
ingmen for one of your informal chats is another question. It'll sure take a heap of travel in between August and November to
get around to even a small percentage of the factory doors in
this country.

If you want a little advice from somebody who doesn't know anything about campaigning (although I hear that's the kind you
are getting most of), here it is:
The political tabulators around
here are saying you need only
about five to seven million votes
over the "normally Republican"
to win. And since there are about 10,000,000 unemployed,
why don't you make your speeches before closed factory
doors?

A Brand New Formula

NOTE to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel
of Texas: Is it true what they say about O'Daniel?
One of the boys tells me that
in this year of unorthodox polit-icking, you went right out and told the good people of Texas,
"The reason that I want to be re-elected is that I've been a failure!"

If that's how it was, Governor,
you certainly got the potted palm
for the most unorthodox campaign ever to net victory this year. Of course, I understand you
explained that the reason you had failed in your own estimation
was because the voters didn't give you a legislature. But that's just heaping it on. Who ever heard of man winning a campaign by belaboring the electorate?

(Note to readers: This isn't Governor O'Daniel's first venture
in political unorthodoxy, by any means. A couple of years ago he was a radio flour salesman and just happened to mention in one
of his broadcasts that with 12 or 13 candidates out for governor,
he thought he might get in the race himself. The mail response
to that was terrific, O'Daniel got convinced and jumped in. He waged a campaign with hill-billy
music, on a platform of the Ten Commandments and $30 every
month for the old folks.)

The Boys Are Outsmarted

NOTE to Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff:
When Congress acts on the President's request for authority to call out the National Guard and reserve officers for military duty,
you are probably going to have
about 30 or 40 unhappy Washington newspapermen on your hands.

When things began looking so
black a few months back, about
that many boys around here,
with military experience, dashed
down to the war department and
got themselves reserve commissions renewed. They were going to be smart. If war came, they were going to be officers. Now, if
and when the President calls up
the reserves, those boys have got to do a year's service. Are they mad!

The movement to widen the scope of hospital treatment through the plan directly sponsored by the Warren General hospital is continuing to make progress
throughout the entire Warren district, according to reports.

A highly diversified cross section of general business and industry are represented among the organizations participating. One of the most recent groups
to enroll for the hospitalization protection is composed of members of the Painters, Decorators & Paper-
hangers Local Union, No. 1137.

Each of those enrolling had the opportunity to bring in the members of his family. Those protected
may go to the hospital for a total of 21 days each per
contract year as such hospital treatment is necessary.
The member's own physician makes the recommen-

Here is a formula worked out in Washington by
which an average American community can figure
roughly how many of its boys are likely to be sent to
army camps this fall—if the conscription bill now before Congress is enacted:

On the basis of census figures, 9.1 per cent of the
average community's population would be men from 21 to 30, who probably would be the first to register
for compulsory military training.

There are about 11,500,000 men of those ages in
the United States, and the Army-Navy Selective Service committee estimates that about 4,500,000 of them—39 per cent—would be fit and free for immediate unlimited service.

That percentage would vary from locality to locality, depending on general health, employment,
marriage and other factors.

would be taken in the October first enrollment, according to tentative War Department plans.

home town's population. Multiply the population by
.091 to get the number who will register first. Multiply the answer by .39 to get the number immediately ready for service. Multiply that answer by .088
to get the number in the first draft.

population by .0031. For a city of 100,000, the final answer figures out to 310 or 312, allowing for frac-
tions here and there.

number that would be called from Warren borough
may be around thirty, or a total of approximately

In 1890, one married woman in 22 worked outside
the home. In 1930 it had become one in eight. It is expected that the 1940 census will show one in five
or six.

This is revealed in a report to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs by Dr. Ruth Shallcross, director of research.

Ask the average man or woman what he thinks
of this. The answer will be, in a majority of cases,
"I'm against it." This attitude is reflected in efforts in 26 states within the past few years to restrict employment of married women. Few such efforts have been successful.

Why? Because, as Dr. Shallcross' survey shows,
two-thirds of the married women who work hold
poorly paid jobs in domestic service, or lowest grade
industrial jobs to which they would not cling except
for necessity. It is usually the unemployed or poorly
paid wage earner in a family who sends the wife outside the home to work.

Music lovers who were disappointed last evening
when it was found necessary to postpone the band concert at the Lacy school should find consolation in
the announcement that it is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, weather permitting.

An interesting event is to take place tomorrow afternoon at Beatty playground when the finals will be

7000 STEEL MEN ARE IN LINE FOR WAGE SETTLEMENT

Washington, Aug. 7.—Republic Steel will probably be asked to pay slightly more than $2,000,000 in back wages to 7000-odd workers as a result of the famous "little steel" strike of three years ago.

Several months ago the federal courts upheld a Labor Board ruling that Republic must re-hire all ex-workers and must pay them back wages from the day the strike began to the date of re-hiring.

Since then, the board has been busy on the job of finding the men, getting a case history of each and determining how much money each man has coming to him—already preparatory to presenting the bill to Republic.

It has been a long, complicated task. Congress almost spoiled it by cutting off the appropriation for the board's research division—which the Smith committee had branded as a nest of Communists—and the research division was the only branch of the board equipped to do the job.

The board, however, found a way around the obstacle. The research division passed out of existence, to be replaced by a branch
called the technical service division. Its director is the boss of the old research division, Dr. David J. Saposs, and its staff is the same—except that it is 45 per cent
smaller.

Sub-regional offices were opened
in five Ohio cities—Cleveland,
Youngstown, Canton, Massillon,

filed by 7199 ex-workers (not
counting 200-odd which were thrown out as invalid). A preliminary check has been made on these claims, and tabulations have
been made showing how much
each man is entitled to.

The job is far from finished. For
one thing, between 700 and 800 of
the claims were faulty in one way
or another—gave insufficient information, or were garbled some-
how.

Present estimate is that the total bill will be a little over $2-000,000. It may go closer to
$3,000,000, however, depending on
how certain claims are decided.

the ex-workers are back at work
now, but a lot of them assert they
got poorer jobs, at lower wages,
than they had when they were
fired. Question for the board is:
Do such men get back pay only up
to the date of re-hiring, or must
the company also pay them the
difference between what they are
getting now and what they were
getting before the strike?

After the tabulation is complete
and the board presents the bill,
Republic may if it chooses contest
the figures. In that case, board
experts and Republic officials will probably check each case against
the company's own records.

One interesting rumor heard
here is that the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee may offer Re-
public a horse trade when the bill
comes in. If, for instance, Republic is due to pay $2,000,000,
SWOC might suggest that the bill

could be cut in half if Republic
would sign a union contract.

That's pretty "iffy" so far. For one thing, it would be up to the
union to get each of the 7000
claimants to agree to a cut in his
compensation, and some of the
boys probably wouldn't care much
for it.

tor of Paraguay from 1814 to 1840
with a special issue of four stamps,
for release in September.

Seven Colombian values will be issued soon announcing the fifth annual national Olympic Games to be held in December. Football,

Philatelic Agency in Sweden's postoffice, honors his work in bringing world attention to the nation's stamp issues. This is the

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Note to Wendell L. Willkie: If you go
through with that "factory door campaign" idea you are talking about, won't you be taking a leaf from the campaign
tactics of your young floor manager, Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota?

That 33-year-old South St. Paul
flash waged his campaign for the
governorship on a shoestring and
used a back door and street corner method of campaigning. He
climbed into a car and covered
his state like a midday sun. He traveled more than 50,000 miles
and averaged about nine speeches
a day, nearly always to small
groups—often no larger than
those which might assemble on
any street corner at lunch time.

It was effective for Stassen, too.
He knocked a powerful political
organization into a cocked hat
and swept into office with so many votes to spare, they tell me,
that the old-line politicians out

Whether you, Mr. Willkie, can use that same method as effectively
by rapping on factory
doors and calling out the work-
ingmen for one of your informal chats is another question. I'll sure take a heap of travelin' between August and November to
get around to even a small percentage of the factory doors in
this country.

If you want a little advice from
somebody who doesn't know any-
thing about campaigning (although I hear that's the kind you
are getting most of), here it is:
The political tabulators around
here are saying you need only
about five to seven million votes
over the "normally Republican"
variety to win. And since there are about 10,000,000 unemployed,
why don't you make your
speeches before closed factory
doors?

NOTE to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel
of Texas: Is it true what they
say about O'Daniel?
One of the boys tells me that
in this year of unorthodox politicking, you went right out and
told the good people of Texas,
"The reason that I want to be re-

elected is that I've been a failure?"

If that's how it was, Governor,
you certainly get the potted palm
for the most unorthodox campaign ever to net victory this
year. Of course, I understand you
explained that the reason you had
failed in your own estimation
was because the voters didn't
give you a legislature. But that's just heaping it on. Who ever
heard of man winning a campaign by belaboring the electo-
rate?

(Note to readers: This isn't Governor O'Daniel's first venture
in political unorthodoxy by any means. A couple of years ago, he was a radio floor salesman and
just happened to mention in one
of his broadcasts that with 12 or 13 candidates out for governor,
he thought he might get in the
race himself. The mail response
to that was terrific. O'Daniel got convinced and jumped in. He
waged a campaign with hill-billy
music, on a platform of "The Ten
month for the old folks.")

The Boys Are Outsmarted

NOTE to Gen. George C. Mar-
shall, army chief of staff:
When Congress acts on the President's request for authority to recall the National Guard and
reserve officers for military duty,
you are probably going to have
about 30 or 40 unhappy Washing-
ton newspapermen on your hands.
When things began looking so
black a few months back, about
that many boys around here,
with military experience, dashed
down to the war department and
got themselves reserve commissions renewed. They were going to be smart. If they came, they were going to be officers. Now, if
and when the President calls up
the reserves, those boys have got
to do a year's service. Are they
mad!

SWIMMING POOL OPEN TO GIRLS

The newly constructed swimming pool at Camp Birdsall, near Gruderville, given its initiation in the current camping season of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, was drained on Monday and thoroughly cleaned.

Beginning next Monday, August 12, it will be open to all registered Girl Scouts in the county, for use from two until four o'clock each afternoon until the fall term of school begins.

Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, council commissioner, reminds all the girls that when they come to use the pool for the first time, they must bring a health certificate from their family physician.

These blank certificates may be had from Mrs. A. M. Lopez, Sr., 16 Fourth avenue, who is chairman of the council's camp committee.

Former Dunn Pupils Gather for Annual Outing at Garland

The 30th annual reunion of former pupils of C. H. Dunn was held Saturday, August 3, at the Garland schoolhouse. "Ats" were set on the lawn and at 12:30 o'clock about 50 persons enjoyed a fine picnic dinner.

Following the dinner the school bell was rung by Mr. Dunn and all entered the schoolhouse, where the meeting was called to order by the president, Laura Dalrymple. Following the singing of America, the roll was called, with Mr. Dunn and 23 pupils responding. Letters were read from Hazel Wright, Mayne Gardner and Asa Linendoll, who expressed regret at being unable to attend. A letter from Lizette Brewer and a card from Mrs. Letitia Rossan arrived too late to be read.

Elmore Price then gave a reading, after which a song, "When They Ring the Golden Bell for You and Me" was sung at the request of Mr. Dunn. This was followed by remarks by the former teacher, a reading by Elmore Price, "The Village Postmistress," and harmonica selections by Mr. Dunn.

All officers were re-elected for another year. They are: Laura Dalrymple, president; Laura Casey, vice president; Daisy Campbell, secretary; and Lee Dunn, treasurer.

Harry Johnson, Mable Jenkins and Clara Conquer spoke briefly. It was decided that the next reunion will be held at the same place on the first Saturday in August, 1941. The program closed with the singing of "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

Mrs. Naomie Goodwill officiated

Modern warfare combined the old and the new as British cavalry gave up its horses in favor of these steel "scooters"—a modern version of the ancient Roman chariot. Famed British cavalry division which now uses these swift little armored cars was renamed "Ironside."

Many Win Prizes at Annual Outing Of Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron

The second annual picnic of the Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company was held Saturday afternoon at Island Park in Youngstown, brief mention of the gathering having been made in these columns.

The program for the afternoon's entertainment, together with the winners in the various events, was as follows:

25-yard dash for boys 8-8. Dan Bonace, for girls, Betty Reynolds; 25-yard dash boys 9-12 years, Milton Olson, for girls, Joyce York; men's backward and forward race, Clifford Scott and Edward Anderson.

A number took pictures following the program. Several who were unable to be present for the dinner came in the afternoon, bringing the total attendance to about 60. All were pleased to have Mr. Dunn present, as he was unable to attend last year.

Mrs. Edith Dunn had the honor of coming the longest distance, her home being in California. Others were in attendance from Akron, Ohio; Jamestown, N. Y.; Erie, Pa.; Youngstown, Pa.; Pleasantville, Pa.; Kean, Pa.; Warren, Pa.; Barnes, Pa.; Sheffield, Pa.; Spring Creek, Pa.; and Torpedo.

son; ladies' balancing contest, Suzanne Diffenderfer; sack race for girls 9-12 years, June Hunzinger; men's balloon fight, Ray Sheekler; ladies' laundry race, Jeannette Knopf; men's wheelbarrow race, Floyd Nollinger and George West; boys' balloon fight, Wallace West; boys' sack race, Leroy Bancroft; girls' balloon kicking contest, June Hunzinger; ladies' ball tossing contest, Mrs. Charles Stone and Mrs. Dick Harrison; cracker eating contest for boys under 12, Bill Lord; at four o'clock, Andy's Tigers defeated Kylander's Folecats in a softball game and many enjoyed the roller skating until 5:30. The remainder of the events were then staged, with the following results:

Men's ball tossing contest, George West; shoe scramble for boys 12-16, Milton Olson for girls, Lorena Lord; ladies' pop sucking contest, Mrs. Charles Stone; men's sack race, Floyd McNutt; ladies' shoe kicking contest, Mrs. Earl Strom.

Dinner was served promptly at six o'clock, followed by a tug of war, Jerry's Thin Men defeating Childs' "Mussel" Men, and a horse shoe pitching contest in which Gust Carlson's Softies won over Greer's Snuffers. Everyone participated in the "Lucky Spot" contest, Ward Knopf, Jr., winning a camera. Clifford Scott won the grand prize for employees.

The remainder of the evening was spent in visiting and roller skating until nine o'clock.

There were 450 in attendance to enjoy the program and afternoon treat of pop, ice cream sundaes, cracker jack and balloons for everyone. Dinner was in the form of a basket picnic, supplemented by ice cream, cake, milk and coffee provided by the company. McCune's orchestra provided music for dinner and during the evening. Bob McCausland's loud speaker was used for announcements and for broadcasting afternoon music. Particular attention was given to entertainment of the children during the entire time.

A committee of about 30 shop employees assisted in making the affair a success, and special mention should be made of Mr. Schellhammer's specialty act put on during dinner. On the various committees making arrangements were the following:

General chairman, Ray Ledebur; entertainment, Richard Harrison; chairman, Warren Childs, A. J. Kerven and Curt Sasserson. Transportation, Paul DeFrees, chairman; A. Drum and H. Kylander. Refreshments, Robert Schwartz, chairman; G. Carlson, A. Mangini, R. Swanson, E. Stricker and R. Loper. Advertising, Bud Cochran.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — "As usual," notes Abner Glib, the human stymie who unfortunately seems to have escaped his obscurity again, "you miss the point. I mean in that piece you wrote about tipping. You said you knew a waiter who bought a yacht, and another who opened his restaurant with the tips he had saved. I believe you. But that isn't the angle that is sapping the vitality of the saps... It's the dime and twenty-centers like myself who are paying through the nose, and I for one am beginning to resent it."

"There isn't a day goes by that the accumulated tips I am compelled to distribute wouldn't buy a first class—well, anyway, a very good dinner."

"TAKE today for instance. The holocaust began before the sun was barely up. Being tardy for work, I decided to take a taxi from Grand Central to the office. The fare was 35c and the tip was a dime.

"I went down to the drug store for breakfast. Almost anywhere else in the country the matter would have ended there. But in New York the tipping practice has gone to the point where even soda-jarkers' salaries are set with an allowance for prospective tips, and if you don't leave one you are likely to get a mouse in your coffee — or so is the tradition. So there was another dime gone.

"The shoe shine boy came around in the middle of the morning. A shine is a dime but you can't stop there. Everybody kicks in another nickel. Total so far, 25c. Lunch meant another 15c, and late in the afternoon I purchased a haircut and shampoo. In Manhattan that comes to $1.20. If a barber charges any less he is apt to be ostracized by his confreres or, at least, have a bomb tossed into his establishment. On a 10 per cent basis, a $1.20 check calls for a 15c cent tip, but my barber announced expectantly that he was leaving for his vacation and I couldn't help giving him an extra nickel send-off.

"After that, I stopped for a glass of beer, and as almost anyone can tell you, bartenders in Manhattan have developed a lovely technique. They spread the change out on the counter, and the dime they hope to get is always a little separated from the rest of your change, so that you are tempted to just ignore that dime. But at this point I staged a one-man rebellion. I picked up all the change. I imagine the bartender is still sore.

"I COULD go on like this for days—as for instance the extra tip for the cigar girl, who also is adept at returning change. The sad point about buying cigars from girls with trays is that there never is any fixed price. They may be 18c; they may be 25c. They may even be 35c. Unfortunately, this girl is very pretty and appealing, and my cigars cost me all told 27c.

"I started out to ignore all tips for the day, but between the beer and the cigars I lost count. I do know that for the amount drubbed away I could have had a fine dinner in Kansas City, or Omaha, but then I was a long way from Kansas City or Omaha, and in any case I was so befuddled when I got on a homebound bus I dropped a nickel in the slot and absently started to hand the driver a tip. It was only when he almost wrecked us that I came to my senses, and sat down."

Friendship and Clendening School Reunion Attended by Large Group

The annual reunion of the Friendship and Clendening schools was held Saturday at Gardner's Hall at Lounsbury's Corners, Elk township, with approximately 75 persons present. Mrs. C. C. Jury has submitted the following report of the gathering:

The weather was ideal and besides the local delegation, Corydon, Warren, Big Bend were represented, with a fine delegation from New York state and California and Florida also represented.

After partaking of a bountiful dinner the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. C. Jury. After singing "America" and repeating the Lord's Prayer the business of the day was taken up. The locating of the 1941 reunion resulted as follows: The date, the first Saturday in August, to remain the same. In case of weather suitable for a picnic a fine grove on the J. O. Lounsbury farm was offered by Mr. Lounsbury for that purpose. In case of storm, other suitable arrangements will be made.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Mrs. Anna Nelson, Russell Route 1; vice president, Mrs. Hal Geer, Warren; secretary, Miss Jeannette Nelson, Bennis, Pomi; treasurer, J. O. Lounsbury, Russell Route 1.

Two former teachers at Friendship school were present, Mrs. Ada Ruhman and Mrs. Hallie Geer, both of Warren.

A short impromptu program was rendered and enjoyed by all. The song "Whispering Hope" was beautifully rendered as a duet by Mrs. Henrietta Blackmer and one of her sisters, whose married name was not learned, but both ladies are the daughters of L. L. Atkins, of Big Bend. Little Audrey Brownell, a sweet little music student, delighted the audience with two beautiful selections.

A prayer by John Schuler of Corydon was offered and the remaining time spent in visiting until late afternoon and all departed unanimous in expressing their enjoyment of a most delightful day with the old school friends and their families.

PATTERN 4515

By Anne Adams

The "pigtail crowd" likes bolero outfits as much as any grown-up. Here is an especially captivating style by Anne Adams, Pattern 4515. The skirt is double-paneled front and back, with the front waist-seam "upped" in a novel shape. There's a prim little collar; a tie, buttons and braid all make nice trim. Make the dress alone in a vivid print. Then save your pattern and when days begin to shorten, stitch up a second style, adding the pert bolero, perhaps in wool challis. You might cut the bolero and skirt from remnants of your own dressmaking, and have the bodice in a sprightly contrast!

Pattern 4515 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10. Size 6, skirt and bolero, takes 1 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric; blouse, 3/4 yard contrast.

Friendship and Clendening School Reunion Attended by Large Group

The annual reunion of the Friendship and Clendening schools was held Saturday at Gardner's Hall at Lounsbury's Corners, Elk township, with approximately 75 persons present. Mrs. C. C. Jury has submitted the following report of the gathering:

The weather was ideal and besides the local delegation, Corydon, Warren, Big Bend were represented, with a fine delegation from New York state and California and Florida also represented.

After partaking of a bountiful dinner the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. C. C. Jury. After singing "America" and repeating the Lord's Prayer the business of the day was taken up. The location of the 1941 reunion resulted as follows: The date, the first Saturday in August, to remain the same. In case of weather suitable for a picnic, a fine grove on the J. O. Lounsbury farm was offered by Mr. Lounsbury for that purpose. In case of storm, other suitable arrangements will be made.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Mrs. Anna Nelson, Russell Route 1; vice president, Mrs. Hal- lie Geer, Warren; secretary, Miss Jeannette Nelson, Bemus Point, N. Y.; treasurer, J. O. Lounsbury, Russell Route 1.

Two former teachers at Friendship school were present, Mrs. Ada Ruhlman and Mrs. Hallie Geer, both of Warren.

A short impromptu program was rendered and enjoyed by all. The song "Whispering Hope" was beautifully rendered as a duet by Mrs. Henrietta Blackmer and one of her sisters, whose married name was not learned, but both ladies are the daughters of L. L. Atkins, of Big Bend. Little Audrey Brownell, a sweet little music student, delighted the audience with two beautiful selections.

A prayer by John Schuler of Corydon was offered and the remaining time spent in visiting until late afternoon and all departed unanimously in expressing their enjoyment of a most delightful day with the old school friends and their families.

VETERAN BUMPS VAN HORN FROM TITLE TOURNEY

Welby Van Horn

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)—Welby Van Horn, the boy who was going to make everybody forget about Bill Tilden last year, is just an interesting topic for speculation this season.

Welby did nothing to remind the spectators of Tilden yesterday when he bowed out of the eastern grass courts tennis championships before Hal Surface, Kansas City veteran. He lost 6-0, 6-3.

There were no other upsets in the second round of either the men's or women's divisions. Riggs and McNeill won handily from Ronnie Lubin and Larry Dec. Advancing with them were Hank Prusoff, Betsy Grant, Gil Hunt, Joe Hunt and Gardner Muloy. Dorothy Bundy, Sarah Paley, Pauline Betz, Helen Bernhard, Carolyn Wheeler and Virginia Wolfenden were among the women winners.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

By BILL RICE

A big hand from this corner for the National Forge baseball outfit which took third place in the state semi-pro tournament, being eliminated Monday by Ford City, a team the Forgers had previously taken over. Elmo Wolfe's charges might very well have sailed through to a title had they been able to muster the services of Dick Hines and had Fred Gagliardi been able to give each pitch everything he had. We didn't see any of the games, but we'll bet Dazzler and Freddy are as good moundsmen as any twirlers that showed up in the wheel. It would have been a nice trip for the Forgers had they won the right to represent the state at Wichita, but to our way of thinking the championship is an empty honor. We understand that the only real district tourney was that held at Irvine and no teams from eastern Pennsylvania were entered.

Herb Peterson, who guided Brookville to two southern division pennants and the District Nine championship last year by virtue of a one-point win over the Dragons, will tender his resignation as cage coach of the Giants this year to accept a position as head basketball coach at Hollidaysburg High. Peterson, a four-sport star at Bradford High and individual scoring king of the league, played basketball and football at Peddie Prep and three years of varsity basketball at Penn State. Peterson is well liked by rival coaches who will be sorry to see him leave the district.

We noted yesterday that Davey O'Brien would probably be able to sling leather for the Philadelphia Eagles despite an appendectomy, and this observation is followed up today with word from the Quaker City that the tiny Texan blew in on the morning train with his bride of a couple of months and a Texas Christian teammate who Davey figures will show the National Professional Football League some fancy passing catching this fall. The mate is Dan Looney who played with O'Brien for two years at the Texas school. Davey says, "There isn't anyone who can catch passes better than Dan. He goes after them all and snags them. He should be a big help to the Eagles this fall."

You said it! . . . Speaking of pass receivers, the very famous Larry Kelly of Yale was trying out the Chautauque course last week. . . . Larry has been coaching at Peddie Prep. . . . Three of Jake Lettig's star pupils called on him Monday. . . . Ken Patchen (two guess—or maybe it's Keith) is emulating "Red". . . . Grange by working as an iceman during the summer months. . . . Both will be varsity linemen for the Dragons this fall, judged on last year's performances. . . . Harry Summers, back from a vacation, and ready to have his Dragon band in top form for the grid season. . . . The band's first appearance will probably be September 7 when Sam Kramer's Strong Vincent Colonels are at Russell Field. . . . Umpire Judy Carroll got in more trouble when Jamestown played Olean the other twilight. . . . The fans pushed Judy all over the diamond and Stu Maguire sharpens his axe with the following comment: . . . "If Judy Carroll isn't a lineal descendant of some Olean menage or a remote Pittler, or a beffulow of Jake, we recommend forthwith that he consult an oculist or optometrist." . . . Just about three weeks more baseball in these parts, and comes football. . . . Still nothing from the Red Jacks. . . . Hi, Epp! A letter from Harold Mickel to your agent states that on or before Friday the Sheffield softball championship will have been settled. . . . The winner wants to arrange a series with Warren's City League champs. . . . We'll be glad to arrange for a meeting if the local pennant winner will call us.

Tigers, In Need of Reserve Infielder, Might Take Look at Kampouris, Double Play Maker Who Developed Home Run Swing With Newark

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

DETROIT, badly in need of a reserve infielder, might take a look at Alex Kampouris.

That Alex Kampouris will have another chance in the majors after a phenomenal season with Newark is practically a foregone conclusion. The Tigers might as well bring him up now to give them the little added push they require to beat the Cleveland club to the American League pennant.

Kampouris is Yankee property, of course, but the world champions appear in no hurry to make a change. Ed Barrow seems willing to write 1940 off as a bad year following four winning ones. He does not choose to disrupt either the Kansas City or Newark outfits, the one on its way to another flag and the other close up, for the purpose of aiding a lost New York cause.

KANSAS CITY will graduate a remarkable second base combination to the parent organization next spring—Phil Rizzuto and Gerald Priddy. With that pair and Joe Gordon there will be no room for Kampouris, who was cast off by the Reds and Giants.

The Yankees could replace Kampouris in an AA loop, and with the New York club obviously out of the chase following its recent swing through the west, there should be no objection to the little second sacker's sale to the Tigers.

Kampouris deserves the opportunity as a reward for his splendid comeback.

Kampouris developed a home run swing in the International League.

He is almost a sure bet to be the best home-run hitter Newark has had in 57 years of organized baseball.

He is almost a sure bet to be the best home-run hitter Newark has had in 57 years of organized baseball.

KAMPOURIS has 30 home runs. . . . has to manufacture only three more to become Newark's home run king of all time. He is the first to hit home runs in all eight parks since Dixie Walker completed the cycle in 1935.

Although he missed 15 early season games, Kampouris leads the Bears in runs-batted-in with 70-odd. This despite the fact that he is batting second, where he frequently is called on to sacrifice or hit behind a runner. His batting average has hovered between .290 and .300.

Kampouris has started more double plays than any second baseman in the circuit. . . . already crowds the league record in this department—36.

Alex Kampouris' skill and agility would give the Detroit Tigers the infield insurance they require in the run down the stretch.

And they would lose no punch with the Going Greek in the batting order.

Sports Round-up

BY BILL WHITE

New York, Aug. 7.—(P)—

Know why the kids in the metropolitan ball parks pray for trips rather than homers? Because every one hit entitles 10 underprivileged children to two weeks in the country—as guests of the reformatory industry. The Children's Welfare Federation selects 'em.

Dutch Clark says some top-notch replacements will make the Cleveland Rams a real threat. . . . He's particularly proud of Clarence Gherke, ex-Utah U acc. . . . Major league clubs needing a crack second sacker could do worse than pick young Dutch Meyer of Knoxville, nephew of the TCU grid coach.

JUNIOR TOSSERS IN DOUBLE DECISION

The Warren entry in the junior baseball league copped a doubleheader from Sheffield Monday afternoon on the Sheffield diamond. The batteries for the first game were D. The scores were 6-3 and 8-5.

SAD SAM JONES IS AT END OF TRAIL

Toronto, Aug. 7.—(P)—Sad Sam Jones, veteran pitcher who was for years a star with the New York Yankees, probably reached the end of his active career today when he was released by the Toronto Maple Leafs. He left for his home in Whitefield, Mass.

Despite his years, Jones has pitched some good relief ball this season. In his final appearance yesterday he worked one inning without allowing a hit or a run.

Rooney Piqued That Giants Lifted Tech Star From Steelers

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers piqued that the New York grid Giants snatched George Muha, undergraduate star halfback of Carnegie Tech, right from under their noses, are clamoring for revision of the National Professional Football League rule to prevent such an occurrence in the future.

Muha's class was graduated last June, but because he missed some college work through an injury three years ago, the football player still has credits to earn before receiving a diploma.

President Art Rooney of the Steelers conceded that the Giants were "within their legal rights" in signing Muha, as the league's rules allow a college player to be approached by a pro football club when his class has graduated although the player hasn't.

Rooney said, however, he would demand that the rule be changed "to cover such cases as that of Muha."

He said he would not have offered a contract to Muha this year, as "that would seem tantamount to swiping him from Tech." Muha, having been eligible to play at the institution this fall.

"To avoid the embarrassing spot in which the league is now at, I intend introducing additions to the tampering rule at the next meeting which will prevent such an ugly situation arising again," Rooney said.

The Steelers' owner admitted he had hoped to sign Merlyn Condit, Muha's fellow backfield star who was graduated from Tech in June.

Tim Mara, owner of the Giants, said the club had "no intention of interrupting Muha's college career" and would willingly release him should he desire to finish his school work and win an engineering degree.

Former North Warren Girl Among Brides

Announcement has been received here that Miss Winifred Anderson formerly of North Warren and a daughter of Mrs. Hettie Anderson Peterson, of Frewsburg, N. Y., was united in marriage on August 2 to Paul Westman, son of Albert Westman, of Kiantone, N. Y.

The ceremony took place in the Wheeler Hill United Brethren church, with Rev. J. L. Strong officiating. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Miss Viola Donelson and Miss Ruth Blaisdell.

Members of the bridal party were Mrs. Emmerson Eklund, sister of the bride, and Robert Westman, who was his brother's best man. The flower girls were Lois and Mary Ann Latona, cousins of the bridegroom. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Victor Peterson. Ushers were Lester Eklund and Francis Anderson, the latter a brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, with places for 30 guests. Waitresses were Mildred Roberts, Mrs. Myrl McCoy, Alice Sears and Roberta Engstrom.

Mrs. Westman is a graduate of the Frewsburg High School and her husband is a Jamestown High School alumnus. Both are employed by the Weber-Knapp Company of Jamestown. After a Canadian wedding trip, they will reside at their newly erected home in Kiantone.

Shower Honors Girl To Reside in Warren

Miss Mary O'Brien, of Bradford, who will come to Warren as a bride following her marriage to Robert Shine, of Kinzua, on August 19, was complimented last evening at a grocery shower given by Mrs. Harold Peake and Helen Key, of Bradford.

The affair was given at the Key home, Washington street, extension, with an eight o'clock buffet luncheon served at a beautifully appointed table and a pleasant evening of games, for which several won prizes.

Invited for the occasion were Mrs. T. E. otic Americans and is utterly repugnant to American democracy and American traditions." The minority groups included Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Thomas (R-Idaho) and Lundeen (FL-Minn).

A movement to form a "home guard" composed primarily of World War veterans gathered headway in congress today as the Senate approached a vote on the bill permitting the president to order the National Guard into active training.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) asked the Senate military committee to begin work Friday on legislation authorizing formation of state militia units to replace the guardsmen called into federal service.

The measure, he told reporters, probably will follow generally plans outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt at a Hyde Park press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the organization probably would be built around a nucleus of trained men furnished by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Whether the federal government would be called on to furnish equipment and to aid in training the groups is a question yet to be settled, Sheppard said.

Senate debate on the National Guard bill was interrupted yesterday by a fiery argument between Senators Holt (D-WVa.) and Minton (D-Ind.), in which the words "snar" and "slacker" were shouted but leaders set a time limit on speeches in order to get a vote late today.

Passage of the measure would clear the way for opening debate tomorrow on the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill, which is expected to produce a long and heated controversy.

In the Senate, Minton precipitated a heated exchange when he arose to shout, after Holt had attacked the conscription bill, that he was "getting impatient with being lectured by a slacker family."

Holt quickly dubbed "malicious lies" Minton's charges that Holt's father had opposed sending food to the soldiers in France in the World War and Minton's assertion that Holt's brother had been "hidden away" in South America at that time to avoid the draft.

"If ever the administration wants filth to be thrown," Holt added, "they get the senator from Indiana, to throw it."

"And," Minton shot back, "when Hitler wants it thrown, you throw it."

"No, no, not at all," Holt replied.

Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, quieted this outburst, but the argument between the two was resumed later when Minton read copies of a West Virginia paper and congressional documents which he said proved the truth of charges he had made against Holt's family.

Leaving the Indiantown Gap military reservation at 6 a. m. (EST) yesterday, the complement of 250 men and 15 officers arrived here at 2:15 p. m.

Today the unit returned over the same route to Indiantown Gap, where it will leave Saturday for northern New York state to participate in maneuvers with nearly 100,000 regular army and National Guard troops, including 14,000 Pennsylvania guardsmen.

The "rapid strategic movement of medium artillery" brought into play 25 motor vehicles and six 155-millimeter howitzers drawn by six-wheel drive trucks. Many of the guardsmen were unseasoned.

Shortly after start of the trip, one gun carriage struck a bridge abutment and lost a wheel. Then one of the gun trucks hit the muzzle of a howitzer ahead of it and was dropped out of the march. No one was hurt.

This is the third of a series of six bridge table stories.

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

One of the best story tellers in bridge and one of its most popular figures is Henry P. Jaeger of Cleveland. In 1927, "Hank" and his teammates won the national auction championship at Hanover, N. H., and one of the plays that helped him win the tournament brought him fame. Holding the blank queen and jack of trump, he led the jack. The opponents naturally figured his partner for the queen and took the finesse the wrong way.

Later Hank, with a different partner, had the same holding and again opened the jack of trump. This time, however, his partner held four trumps to the ace-king and figured that Hank wanted to pull trumps to prevent declarer from cross-ruffing. So East went right up with the king and laid down the ace.

Thus Hank and his partner, holding six trumps including the ace, king, queen and jack, took only two trump tricks, and the little lady in the South position made the unbelievable sum of five-odd.

Four hearts look like an unusual contract on this hand, but remember that in the early days of contract, bidding systems were none too accurate. Some players did arrive at three no trump, but top score went to the lady who made five-odd in hearts.

In conclusion, the bride-to-be was presented with lovely gifts for her future home from the following:

Betty Blair, Ruth Johnson, Betty Hansen, Billie and Georgiana Shea, Lorraine Johnson, Jean Sleeman, Mary and Pauline Blume, Dorothy Borton, Mrs. Raymond Hoag, Mrs. Sloan Shaffer, and the hostesses; also Mrs. Garrison, of DuBois, grandmother of the honored guest.

Prompt Passage is Urged

otic Americans and is utterly repugnant to American democracy and American traditions. The minority groups included Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Thomas (R-Ill.) and Lundeen (FL-Minn.).

A movement to form a "home guard" composed primarily of World War veterans gathered headway in congress today as the Senate approached a vote on the bill permitting the president to order the National Guard into active training.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) asked the Senate military committee to begin work Friday on legislation authorizing formation of state militia units to replace the guardsmen called into federal service.

The measure, he told reporters, probably will follow generally plans outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt at a Hyde Park press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the organization probably would be built around a nucleus of trained men furnished by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Whether the federal government would be called on to furnish equipment and to aid in training the groups is a question yet to be settled, Sheppard said.

Senate debate on the National Guard bill was interrupted yesterday by a fiery argument between Senators Holt (D-WVA) and Minton (D-Ind.), in which the words "liar" and "slacker" were shouted but leaders set a time limit on speeches in order to get a vote late today.

Passage of the measure would clear the way for opening debate tomorrow on the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill, which is expected to produce a long and heated controversy.

In the Senate, Minton precipitated a heated exchange when he arose to shout after Holt had attacked the conscription bill, that he was "getting impatient with being lectured by a slacker family."

Holt quickly dubbed "malicious lies" Minton's charges that Holt's father had opposed sending food to the soldiers in France in the World War and Minton's assertion that Holt's mother had been "hidden away" in South America at that time to avoid the draft.

"If ever the administration wants fifth to be thrown," Holt added, "they get the senator from Indiana to throw it."

"And," Minton shot back, "when Hitler wants it thrown, you throw it."

"No, no, not at all," Holt replied.

Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, quieted this outburst, but the argument between the two was resumed later when Minton read copies of a West Virginia paper and congressional documents which he said proved the truth of charges he had made against Holt's family.

Leaving the Indiantown Gap military reservation at 6 a. m. (EST) yesterday, the complement of 250 men and 15 officers arrived here at 2:15 p. m.

Today the unit returned over the same route to Indiantown Gap, where it will leave Saturday for northern New York state to participate in maneuvers with nearly 100,000 regular army and National Guard troops, including 14,000 Pennsylvania guardsmen.

The "rapid strategic movement of medium artillery" brought into play 25 motor vehicles and six 155-millimeter howitzers drawn by six-wheel drive trucks. Many of the guardsmen were unseasoned.

Shortly after start of the trip, one gun carriage struck a bridge abutment and lost a wheel. Then one of the gun trucks hit the muzzle of a howitzer ahead of it and was dropped out of the march. No one was hurt.

This is the third of a series of six bridge table stories.

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

One of the best story tellers in bridge and one of its most popular figures is Henry P. Jaeger of Cleveland. In 1927, "Hank" and his teammates won the national auction championship at Hanover, N. H., and one of the plays that helped him win the tournament brought him fame. Holding the blank queen and jack of trump, he led the jack. The opponents naturally figured his partner for the queen and took the finesse the wrong way.

Later Hank, with a different partner, had the same holding and again opened the jack of trump. This time, however, his partner held four trumps to the ace-king and figured that Hank wanted to pull trumps to prevent declarer from cross-ruffing. So East went right up with the king and laid down the ace.

Thus Hank and his partner, holding six trumps including the ace, king, queen and jack, took only two trump tricks, and the little lady in the South position made the unbelievable sum of five-odd.

Four hearts look like an unusual contract on this hand, but remember that in the early days of contract, bidding systems were none too accurate. Some players did arrive at three no trump, but top score went to the lady who made five-odd in hearts.

VETERAN BUMPS VAN HORN FROM TITLE TOURNEY

Welby Van Horn

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)—Welby Van Horn, the boy who was going to make everybody forget about Bill Tilden last year, is just an interesting topic for speculation this season.

Welby did nothing to remind the spectators of Tilden yesterday when he bowed out of the eastern grass courts tennis championships before Hal Surface, Kansas City veteran. He lost 6-0, 6-3.

There were no other upsets in the second round of either the men's or women's divisions. Riggs and McNeill won handily from Ronnie Lubin and Larry Dee. Advancing with them were Hank Prusoff, Betsy Grant, Gil Hunt, Joe Hunt and Gaidnar Muloy. Dorothy Bundy, Sarah Paulfey, Pauline Betz, Helen Bernhardt, Gracyn Wheeler and Virginia Wolfenden were among the women winners.

Manuel Salvo and Eddie Miller, Bees—Salvo pitched four-hit ball in first game of doubleheader with Phils and Miller punched homer in each contest.

Archie McKain, Tigers—Rescued Buck Newsom with bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning and struck out Browns' final batter.

The Dawn of Time

SPORT SCATTERINGS

A big hand from this corner for the National Forge baseball outfit which took third place in the state semi-pro tournament, being eliminated Monday by Ford City, a team the Forgers had previously taken over. Elmo Wolfe's charges might very well have sailed through to a title had they been able to master the services of Dick Hines and had Fred Gagliardi been able to give each pitch everything he had. We didn't see any of the games, but we'll bet Dazzler and Proddy are as good moundsmen as any twirlers that showed up in the wheel. It would have been a nice trip for the Forgers had they won the right to represent the state at Wichita, but to our way of thinking the championship is an empty honor. We understand that the only real district tourney was that held at Irvine and no teams from eastern Pennsylvania were entered.

Herb Peterson, who guided Brookville to two southern division pennants and the District Nine championship last year by virtue of a one-point win over the Dragons, will tender his resignation as cage coach of the Giants this year to accept a position as head basketball coach at Hollidaysburg High. Peterson, a four-sport star at Bradford High and individual scoring king of the league, played basketball and football at Peddie Prep and three years of varsity basketball at Penn State. Peterson is well liked by rival coaches who will be sorry to see him leave the district.

We noted yesterday that Davey O'Brien would probably be able to sling leather for the Philadelphia Eagles despite an appendectomy, and this observation is followed up today with word from the Quaker City that the tiny Texan blew in on the morning train with his bride of a couple of months and a Texas Christian teammate who Davey figures will show the National Professional Football League some fancy pass catching this fall. The mate is Dan Rooney who played with O'Brien for two years at the Texas school. Davey says, "There isn't anyone who can catch passes better than Don. He goes after them all and snags them. He should be a big help to the Eagles this fall."

You said it! ... Speaking of pass receivers, the very famous Larry Kelly of Yale was trying out the Chautauque course last week. ... Larry has been coaching at Peddie Prep. ... Three of Jake Leidig's star pupils called on him Monday—the Schumacher twins, Dick and John, and Albert "Butt" Knabb. ... Ken Patchen (we guess—or maybe it's Keith) is emulating "Red" Grange by working as an iceman during the summer months. ... Both will be varsity linemen for the Dragons this fall, judged on last year's performances. ... Harry Summers, back from a vacation, and ready to have his Dragon band in top form for the grid season. ... The band's first appearance will probably be September 7 when Sam Kramer's Strong Vincent Colonels are at Russell Field. ... Umpire Judy Carroll got in more trouble when Jamestown played Olean the other twilight. ... The fans pushed Judy all over the diamond and Stu Maguire sharpens his axe with the following comment. ... "If Judy Carroll isn't a lineal descendant of some Olean menage or a remote Piller, or a bedfellow of Jake, we recommend forthwith that he consult an oculist or optometrist." ... Just about three weeks more baseball in these parts, and comes football. ... Still nothing from the Red Jackets. ... Hi, Epp! A letter from Harold Mickel to your agent states that on or before Friday the Sheffield softball championship will have been settled. ... The winner wants to arrange a series with Warren's City League champs. ... We'll be glad to arrange for a meeting if the local pennant winner will call us.

Graysons SCOREBOARD

Tigers, In Need of Reserve Infielder, Might Take Look at Kampouris, Double Play Maker Who Developed Home Run Swing With Newark

DETROIT, Aug. 7.—(P)—Sad Sam Jones, veteran pitcher who was for years a star with the New York Yankees, probably reached the end of his active career today when he was released by the Toronto Maple Leafs. He left for his home in Whitfield, Mass.

Despite his years, Jones has pitched some good relief ball this season. In his final appearance yesterday he worked one inning without allowing a hit or a run.

Kampouris is Yankee property, of course, but the world champions appear in no hurry to make a deal. Ed Barrow seems willing to wait 1940 off as a bad year following four winning ones.

He does not choose to disrupt either the Kansas City or Newark outfits, the one on its way to another flag and the other close up, for the purpose of aiding a lost New York cause.

KANSAS CITY will graduate a remarkable second base combination to the parent organization next spring—Phil Rizzuto and Gerald Priddy. With that pair and Joe Gordon there will be no room for Kampouris, who was cast off by the Reds and Giants.

The Yankees could replace Kampouris in a AA loop, and with the New York club obviously out of the chase following its recent swing through the west, there should be no objection to the little second sacker's sale to the Tigers.

Kampouris deserves the opportunity as a reward for his splendid comeback. Kampouris developed a home run swing in the International League.

He is almost a sure bet to be the best home-run hitter Newark has had in 57 years of organized baseball.

KAMPOURIS has 30 home runs. ... has to manufacture only three more to become Newark's home run king of all time. He is the first to hit home runs in all eight parks since Dixie Walker completed the cycle in 1935.

Although he missed 15 early season games, Kampouris leads the Bears in runs-batted-in with 70-odd. This despite the fact that he is batting second, where he frequently is called on to sacrifice or hit behind a runner. His batting average has hovered between .290 and .300.

Kampouris has started more double plays than any second baseman in the circuit. ... already crowds the league record in this department—36.

Alex Kampouris' skill and agility would give the Detroit Tigers the infield insurance they require in the run down the stretch. And they would lose no punch with the Going Greek in the batting order.

Sports Round-up

New York, Aug. 7.—(P)—Know why the kids in the metropolitan ball parks pray for triples rather than homers? JUNIOR TOSSERS IN DOUBLE DECISION

The Warren entry in the junior baseball league copped a doubleheader from Sheffield Monday afternoon on the Sheffield diamond. The batteries for the first game were D. The scores were 6-3 and 8-5.

Toronto, Aug. 7.—(P)—Sad Sam Jones, veteran pitcher who was for years a star with the New York Yankees, probably reached the end of his active career today when he was released by the Toronto Maple Leafs. He left for his home in Whitfield, Mass.

Rooney Piqued That Giants Lifted Tech Star From Steelers

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers, piqued that the New York grid Giants snatched George Muha, undergraduate star halfback of Carnegie Tech, right from under their noses, are clamoring for revision of the National Professional Football League rule to prevent such an occurrence in the future.

Muha's class was graduated last June, but because he missed some college work through an injury three years ago, the football player still has credits to earn before receiving a diploma.

President Art Rooney of the Steelers conceded that the Giants were "within their legal rights" in signing Muha, as the league's rules allow a college player to be approached by a pro football club when his class has graduated—although the player hasn't.

Rooney said, however, he would demand that the rule be changed

No Relaxing of Food Lockade London States

any, that the British navy open its blockade for food shipments. Cudany said Belgium would be close to famine by early fall unless food was sent from the United States.

Food shipment would not be allowed through the blockade even if they were to be distributed by an organization which the British could trust completely, one authoritative source said.

The British view was that any such food would make the whole situation easier for the Germans, relieving them of their troubles with hungry peoples.

The harvests will not be bumper crops this year, this source continues, but he maintained that if famine should occur it would be due solely to "Nazi rapacity in looting stocks for the Reich."

He quoted a statement by Adolf Hitler to the Reichstag July 19 that "food supplies are assured for the duration of the war, thanks to measures taken in time" over the whole economic area controlled by Germany and Italy.

Civilian Warriors Are Disturbed

men, stepping up their footwork to keep pace with new streamlined methods of warfare, deployed through the fields and hills of northern New York state today against an imaginary enemy.

Training of "heavy weapon" companies consisted largely of problems of shooting and concealment, hiding of anti-tank guns in woodland covers, and simulated firing of mortars from an angle into a trench or from rising ground.

Infantrymen meantime were mastering the new army drill regulations. Division, brigade and regimental intelligence officers pored over maps, trying to plot where the attack may come when the "war" between the blacks and the blues cuts loose tomorrow.

Politics at a Glance

By The Associated Press

St. Louis—Senator Harry S. Truman takes a slight lead over Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and Maurice M. Milligan, former federal attorney, for the Missouri Democratic senatorial nomination, with the outcome hanging in the balance.

Topeka, Kans.—Gov. Payne Ratter wins Republican renomination in Kansas primary. Democrats nominate William H. Burke, former internal revenue collector for Kansas, to oppose Ratter.

Colorado Springs—Wendell L. Willie, Republican presidential nominee, works on agricultural and conservation phases of his acceptance speech after returning to his vacation home from a farm conference at Des Moines.

Washington—Demands for legislation to prevent corporation officials from coercing employees into making political contributions came from two members of senate—Senators Miller (D-Ark) and Tobey (R-NH).

Rome, Aug. 7.—(A)—Italian military authorities announced today the loss of 337 men dead and missing in war operations during July, bringing the total since Italy entered the war to 1,916.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—(A)—The first session of Canada's 19th parliament adjourned today after sitting since May 16, working largely with war measures. It will convene again November 5.

Army of 500,000 on March

Gayda's newspaper also carried today a dispatch from Algiers, Spain, reporting that two planes had bombed Gibraltar, British fortress. The Italian High Command's communique did not mention the attack.

The raid on Haifa, important oil center, was the third since the war began. Gasoline tanks and port facilities were reported by the Italian High Command to have been badly damaged.

There were other raids in East Africa on the air and naval bases of Aden and Berbera, and land advances into British Somaliland.

Possession of Suez would be the realization of one of Mussolini's dreams, but official circles at Cairo appeared confident the British could hold it with their veteran desert troops even in the face of numerically superior forces of Italians reported ready to advance across Egypt.

The warning to the English to concentrate successes came from the Daily Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production and member of the inner war cabinet.

The Express said Britain "must concentrate on (1) ensuring the ultimate collapse of Mussolini's African empire by cutting off supplies from Italy; and (2) preparing to resist invasion here."

Only a few German bombers were reported over the British Isles during the night. Two districts in Scotland and the Bristol channel area were bombed.

The British government said "damage was negligible and there were no casualties." Leaflets containing Hitler's "peace or destruction" ultimatum also were dropped in the Bristol channel area.

British wondered about the hull, speculated that Adolf Hitler's blitz-machine is not yet geared up, but said the blow must come soon if it is to come at all this year.

A German radio broadcast singled out London as a "big target" for Nazi air power aiming at dock destruction along the twisting Thames.

The statement by U. S. Ambassador to Belgium John Cudany that Belgium would face near-famine by mid-September unless she received food from the United States drew British criticism.

The Daily Express declared that the Germans not the British blockade, would be responsible for any suffering among the Belgians.

Informed British sources already had said it was "unlikely" the British would relax their blockade to allow food to pass into German-occupied territories.

Soviet Russia formally accepted Estonia into the Soviet union and signed a new trade treaty with the United States.

The pact renews an expired agreement, but contains an additional reservation that purchases may be cut if United States defense restrictions limit the export of goods Russia needs.

Prison Term For Candidate For Governor

Kilgore immediately sentenced Wheeler to one to ten years in the state penitentiary after overruling defense motions to set aside the verdict and arrest judgment. In addition he imposed another sentence of five years for a second offense conviction.

Wheeler was accused in nine indictments, but was tried specifically on a charge he had obtained the name of Alex. Davis of Beckley to the Communist ballot application by fraud. The second offense charge was based on Wheeler's sentence to Leavenworth prison for refusal to accept military conscription in the World War.

THREE ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION IN OHIO

Lebanon, O., Aug. 7.—(A)—Three men were killed today in a terrific explosion that wrecked a powder-processing building of the King powder company, at nearby King's Mills.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. The powder plant, one of the oldest in the United States, occupies scores of small buildings along a one and one-half mile frontage.

C. G. King, chairman of the board, said the King's Mill plant was not operating on government orders and that these "if we have any" were being filled at the firm's Ashland, Ky., factory. There was no reason to suspect sabotage, he added.

COOK OBSEQUES

New Rochelle, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(A)—Funeral services for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer, were held today in a private chapel. He died Monday. The body will be taken to Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Cook's daughter, Mrs. Helen C. Vetter of Snyder, N. Y., and a step-daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hamilton of East Aurora, N. Y., are expected to make arrangements for burial there.

ahy, that the British navy open its blockade for food shipments. Cud-ahy said Belgium would be closed to famine by early fall unless food was sent from the United States.

Food shipment would not be allowed through the blockade even if they were to be distributed by an organization which the British could trust completely, one authoritative source said.

The British view was that any such food would make the whole situation easier for the Germans, relieving them of their troubles with hungry peoples.

The harvests will not be bumper crops this year, this source continues, but he maintained that if famine should occur it would be due solely to "Nazi rapacity in looting stocks for the Reich."

He quoted a statement by Adolf Hitler to the Reichstag July 19 that "food supplies are assured for the duration of the war, thanks to measures taken in time" over the whole economic area controlled by Germany and Italy.

Civilian Warriors

Are Disturbed

men, stepping up their footwork to keep pace with new streamlined methods of warfare, deployed through the fields and hills of northern New York state today against an imaginary enemy.

Training of "heavy weapon" companies consisted largely of problems of shooting and concealment, hiding of anti-tank guns in woodland covers, and simulated firing of mortars from an angle into a trench or from rising ground.

Infantrymen meantime were mastering the new army drill regulations. Division, brigade and regimental intelligence officers pored over maps, trying to plot where the attack may come when the "war" between the blacks and the blues cuts loose tomorrow.

An anti-tank school provides instruction in the operation of 37-millimeter anti-tank guns, 50-caliber machine guns, and 81 and 60-millimeter mortars.

SURPRISE FLOOD IN CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(P)—A surprise flood threat to 2,000 families in the Soho district, high above the level of the city's three rivers, caused officials to make ready today for speedy evacuation in the event of a heavy rainfall.

Collapse of a 100-foot length of a big sewer closed the district's only outlet for the natural flow of water, bringing contractors hustling to the scene with pumps and excavating apparatus. The piling up of 80 feet of fill from a housing project was believed to have caused the collapse.

City Workers Director Frank M. Roessing warned the section's 10,000 residents that a heavy rain might put their houses under as much as 38 feet of water. Sixteen river lifeboats were moved there and guards were instructed to be ready for any emergency.

PLAN EXPEDITION TO SUBSTANTIATE COOK
Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(P)—Explorer Sir Hubert Wilkins and an associate, taking a plane for Detroit yesterday, said they planned to form an expedition there to fly to the north pole in an attempt to substantiate the claim of the late Dr. Frederick A. Cook, that he discovered it.

Wilkins' companion was Ralph Shainwald-Von-Ahlefeld, president of the Cook Arctic Club. Larchmont, N. Y., which is trying to raise $100,000 to finance the expedition.

Dr. Cook died at New Rochelle, N. Y., on Monday, disappointed to the end that the world failed to acknowledge his claim that he, and not the late Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, was the first to reach the pole.

statement declaring that Senator Joseph F. Guffey (D-Pa.) had employed "dirty, mendacious partisan politics" in telling the Senate earlier this week that Wilkie had been christened "Lewis Wendel Wilkus" and had changed his name.

Van Nuys said he knew from personal acquaintance with Wilkie's parents that this was untrue.

Detroit, Aug. 7.—(P)—Carl B. Tuttle, vice president and treasurer of the S. S. Kresge Co., said today that a letter soliciting from employees contributions to the Wilkie-for-president campaign fund was "neither a touch nor a command."

He said the letter went only to 265 managers and department heads in the company's 80-odd Michigan stores, and not to the 28,000 rank-and-file employees of the company throughout the country.

"It merely offered them an opportunity to make a contribution to the Wilkie campaign through me if they so desired," Tuttle said.

LIGHTNING VICTIM NEAR WAYNESBORO
Waynesboro, Aug. 7.—(P)—A farmer was killed by lightning during a heavy rainstorm in the Waynesboro district last night.

The victim, Jacob Gray, 70, was standing under a tree on his farm at Sabillasville, Md., across the Mason-Dixon line.

The storm reached cloudburst proportions at Mt. Alto where there was six inches of water in the streets for a time.

Highways near the Mt. Alto state sanitarium were flooded. Some trees were uprooted and fell across the roads.

THREE ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION IN OHIO
Lebanon, O., Aug. 7.—(P)—Three men were killed today in a terrific explosion that wrecked a powder-processing building of the King powder company, at nearby King's Mills.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

The powder plant, one of the oldest in the United States, occupies scores of small buildings along a one and one-half mile frontage. C. G. King, chairman of the board, said the King's Mill plant was not operating on government orders and that these "if we have any," were being filled at the firm's Ashland, Ky., factory. There was no reason to suspect sabotage, he added.

Gayda's newspaper also carried today a dispatch from Algierias, Spain, reporting that two planes had bombed Gibraltar, British fortress. The Italian High Command's communique did not mention the attack.

The raid on Haifa, important oil center, was the third since the war began. Gasoline tanks and port facilities were reported by the Italian High Command to have been badly damaged.

There were other raids in East Africa on the air and naval bases of Aden and Berbera, and land advances into British Somaliland.

Possession of Suez would be the realization of one of Mussolini's dreams, but official circles at Cairo appeared confident the British could hold it with their veteran desert troops even in the face of numerically superior forces of Italians reported ready to advance across Egypt.

The warning to the English to expect Italian successes came from the Daily Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production and member of the inner war cabinet.

Britain's forces facing the 250,000-strong Libyan army are outnumbered but their control of water supplies and their experience are considered compensating factors.

The Express said Britain "must concentrate on: (1) Ensuring the ultimate collapse of Mussolini's African empire by cutting off supplies from Italy; and (2) preparing to resist invasion here."

Only a few German bombers were reported over the British Isles during the night. Two districts in Scotland and the Bristol channel area were bombed but the British government said "damage was negligible and there were no casualties." Leaflets containing Hitler's "peace or destruction" ultimatum also were dropped in the Bristol channel area.

British wondered about the lull, speculated that Adolf Hitler's blitz-machine is not yet geared up, but said the blow must come soon if it is to come at all this year.

A German radio broadcast, singled out London as a "big target" for Nazi air power aiming at dock destruction along the twisting Thames.

The statement by U. S. Ambassador to Belgium John Cudahy that Belgium would face near famine by mid-September unless the received food from the United States drew British criticism.

The Daily Express declared that the Germans not the British blockade, would be responsible for any suffering among the Belgians.

Informed British sources already had said it was "unlikely" the British would relax their blockade to allow food to pass into German-occupied territories.

Soviet Russia formally accepted Russian aid to the Soviet union and signed a new trade treaty with the United States.

The pact renews an expired agreement, but contains an additional reservation that purchases may be cut if United States defense restrictions limit the export of goods Russia needs.

Prison Term For Candidate For Governor

Kilgore immediately sentenced Wheeler to one to ten years in the state penitentiary after overruling defense motions to set aside the verdict and arrest judgment. In addition he imposed another sentence of five years for a second offense conviction.

Wheeler was accused in nine indictments, but was tried specifically on a charge he had obtained the name of Alex Davis of Beckley to the Communist ballot application by fraud. The second offense charge was based on Wheeler's sentence to Leavenworth prison for refusal to accept military conscription in the World War.

North Warren Adds Large Amount To County Red Cross Relief Fund

The progressive community of North Warren gave $154.75 to the War Relief Fund of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, exclusive of donations received from the State Hospital employees. It was announced today. This splendid showing was due to the untiring efforts of Gerald Rickerson and Donald Cook, Kiwanis men who managed the campaign, and their co-workers, Mrs. C. J. Songer, Mrs. Thelma Brooks, Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, Mrs. Dan Porter, Mrs. Harold Lee, Mrs. Ralph Gross, Mrs. Elsie Olson, Mrs. James Barrett, Mrs. Mary A'Harris, Miss Lola Johnson, Mrs. Mary Thayer, Mrs. Gladys Jamieson and Mrs. Everett Stokes. The Sherwood Refining Company employees forwarded $23.75 to the fund and the General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, contributed $20.55 as a result of their recent card party held for the benefit of the fund. With these outstanding donations and a number of smaller ones, which were equally appreciated, the total has reached $5,025.22, leaving only a little over $2,000 to be raised to reach the entire $8,000. As previously announced, the list being printed today is the last list of individual donors to appear in these columns. Totals will be given from time to time, however, as it is the intention of the local Red Cross Chapter to continue the appeal until the $8,000 has been raised. Contributions received to 10 a. m. today included the following: United Refining Company employees, $14.00 (additional, total, $151.75); General Joseph Warren Chapter, D. A. R., $20.55; North Warren, $151.00, $25.00; State Hospital Alumni Association, $5.00; Mary Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kora, Young Men's Adult Bible Class, J.O.Y. Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Well, there's nothing for it. I've got to write about Elsie. I've got to, because the way things are going Elsie is going to steal the picture. Jack Oakie and Kay Francis and the others won't have a chance in "Little Men." I'll start off by saying Elsie is wonderful, beautiful, and good. She's also the most surprisingly agreeable guest of honor a Hollywood cocktail party ever had. That's how I'll start off, taking it for granted that you know Elsie is a cow, American Jersey Cattle Club No. 998632 (real name You'll Do Lobelia). Her poise and serenity may be inherent, or may have been developed at the New York World's Fair. Believe me, she needs all the poise and serenity she can muster. She needs it because the Messrs. Towne and Baker, her movie bosses, will stop at nothing. They didn't hesitate to give her a cocktail party. They gave it at Ciro's, a night spot with a maroon-and-blue decor, silky and satiny, reminiscent of boudoir scenes in romantic French novels. ELISIE arrived in her special truck, its sides modestly emblazoned with her name and the purpose of her visit to Hollywood (something, I hear, to do with a movie). She entered via the rear door, to thwart autograph hunters no doubt, and took her stance in a square of prop grass enclosed in a daisy-garlanded rope. Elsie was accompanied by her retinue. This includes her mentor, Mr. Joyce, who reared her from calfhood and trained her horns to symmetry. Also in attendance for purposes apparently purely decorative) were two gingham milkmaids, Misses Pauline Easterday and Terry Sherer, recruited through RKO's casting office and earning $11 a day as photographer-bait for Elsie. As guests entered they were announced, in stentorian tones, by a dressy dignitary who turned out on vestibule to be Hugh Harrison, actor. Strikingly, the orchestra (which strangely neglected pastoral music throughout the afternoon) footled a greeting and Elsie tossed her tongue around her copious cud. GUESTS saw Elsie in her party clothes and she was a bovine dream. She wore a daring chapeau with flowers, yards of purple and green tulle studded with sequins framing her face softly; she wore a throw-around robe of violet velvet, monogrammed in gold letters. Around her tail was a big pink satin bow, around her neck a garland of metal daisies, and her left front ankle a gold bracelet with bells. Her shoes were white kid—custom-made, and costing $50 a pair, or rather quartet. Costume-designer Eddie Stevenson could take a bow. Elsie took her Hollywood as it came, untruffled. She never smiled, never did she yawn, not even when Jack Oakie posed for pictures with the inevitable hugger. Elsie posed graciously with almost everybody, except Kay Francis, who arrived after Elsie had gone home. The Messrs. Towne and Baker, devoted to Elsie and publicity, already are planning their next disbursement, which will be a calf shower for Elsie, who has made no secret of her fondness for a bowl of hay. IN THINGS SILENT In things silent, secretly is where Peace abides, skin to maver. In things silent, is where lies Earth's majestic pattern of paradise. These are raptures that I seek Knowing in things silent, God speaks. Nell Jewell Caldwell.

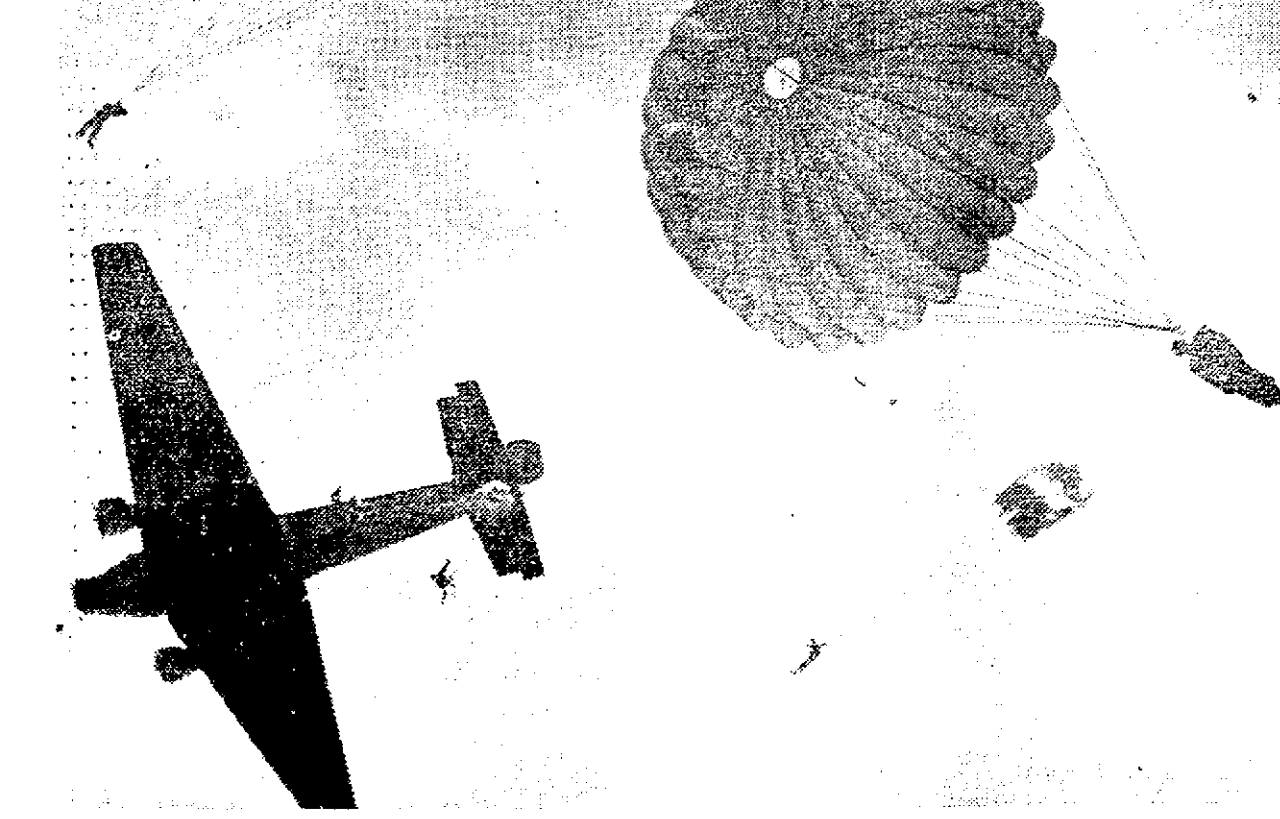

Fagundus Prepares For Old Home Day; Many are Expected

Once again the community of Fagundus is preparing for its Old Home Day, which will take place in the church grove on Saturday, August 17. The committee in charge of this year's gathering has issued the following announcement, which will be of interest to many Times-Mirror readers: It is surprising how people return from far and near each year to renew old acquaintances and make new friends. Many were heard to remark that last year's gathering was the most enjoyable of all. There will be refreshment stands for those who wish to buy lunches, or tables for picnic parties. With the large church and covered booths even the rain cannot spoil the day and we are looking forward to a large crowd and a pleasant reunion. The church is having a new roof put on and the proceeds from Old Home Day have helped in this way. The afternoon program has always been open to those present and stories of Fagundus as a city are always interesting. We invite those who have photographs to kindly bring them.

Deadly "Umbrella Men"

As German invasion of England would find the Naval reserve corps on its now-familiar mission of saving death from the skies, the "Umbrella Men" are practicing their life-saving training. Above, silent umbrella following out a squad practices jumping from an airplane. Soldier at right seems to be standing rigidly.

REP. JARRETT IN INTERVIEW SCORES DRAFT

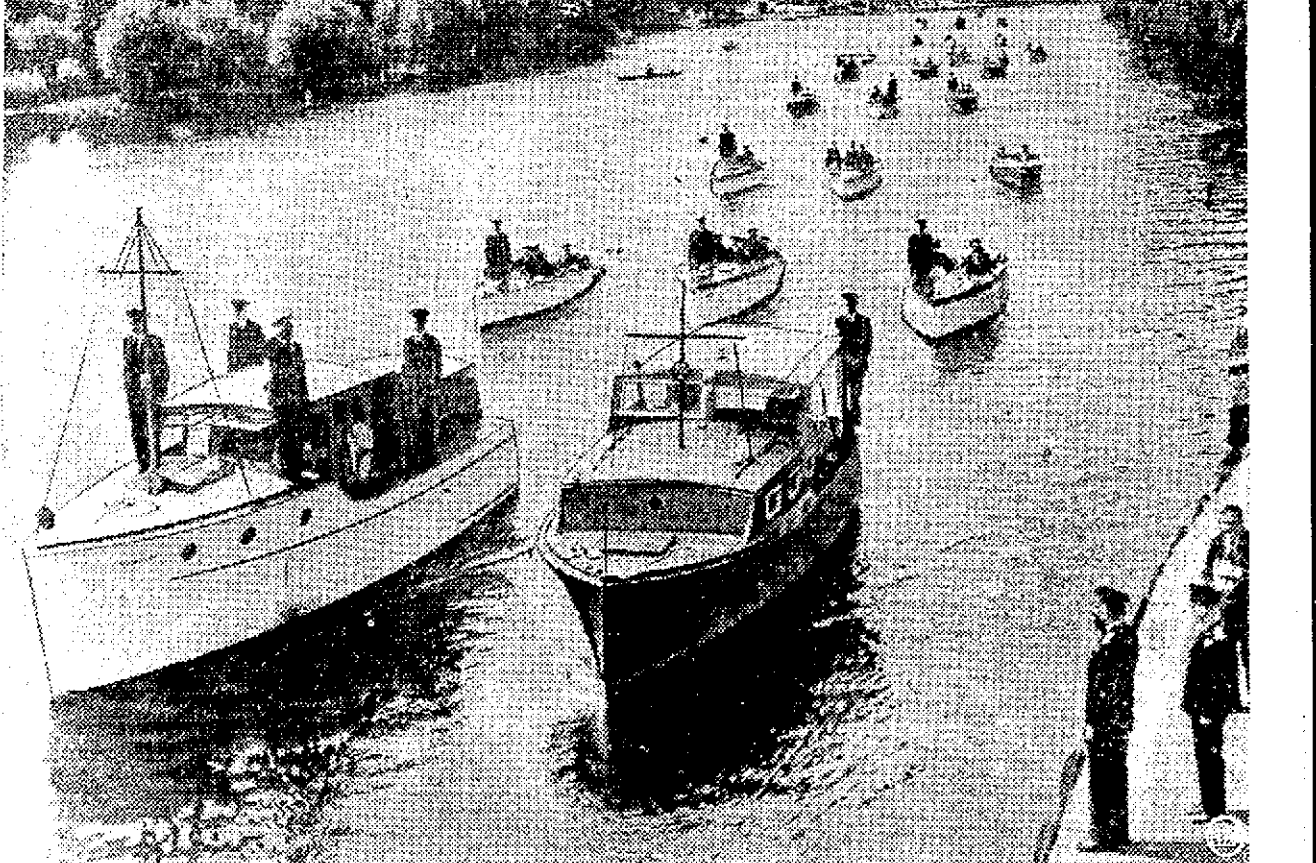

Sharon Herald: Congressman Benjamin Jarrett of Farrell is opposed to the administration's conscription bill and to the President's plan to call the National Guard into service. Congressman Jarrett, made known his stand on the controversial proposals in an interview at New Castle. "Conditions are hectic in Washington these days," said Congressman Jarrett. The situation overseas is changing daily, and there never was such a need for sound thinking among officials of the government as there is today. "Just now we are concerned with the proposed conscription bill, I am opposed to it in its present shape and favor the Vandenberg plan. It seems to me to be the wrong thing to do to conscript so many young men when we could get the same results by asking for enlistments in the army. Not for the usual three-year period but for the period the President asks for the conscripts, a year. "There are thousands of able young men, without responsibilities who would be willing to volunteer for a year's service and an enlisted army would not disrupt the economic life of so many of our young men. "As to the calling of the National Guard into service, I am opposed to that. It negatives our defense plans and calls into service thousands of men who are married, who have established themselves, and takes many away from important defense industries. "We must increase our standing army and we must strengthen our defenses. But this is no time for hysteria either individually or collectively. Nothing is to be gained by rushing headlong into any position without careful study. The ablest men in Congress today are convinced that a volunteer army can be raised if the time limit is placed at a year and this is what the President asks for conscripts." Recently, a Norwegian whaler caught a whale which bore in its body a harpoon of the type used more than 40 years ago.

No State Constitution Amendments Appearing on Ballot in November; Elections Bureau Makes Mistake

The state elections bureau today corrected its advertisements of four proposed constitutional amendments that may go before the voters of Pennsylvania for a referendum in the 1942 gubernatorial election, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg. The advertisement, which appeared in the Times-Mirror last Saturday and in newspapers throughout the state about the same time, stated that the amendments would come up for a vote of the people in the forthcoming general election. Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, secretary of the commonwealth, explained an error was made in the caption. "The amendments will not be submitted to the electorate this year," she said. "The statement that they would was unnecessary in the caption." Instead of reprinting the initial advertisement, she said the election bureau would have the copy corrected for two subsequent printings around September 5 and October 5. Two of the proposed amendments would increase the debt limit of the various counties. One would permit all counties to increase their borrowing capacity from seven to 10 percent of the average assessed value of taxable realty for nine years previous, and allow Philadelphia to increase its borrowing capacity from ten to 12 percent. A similar proposal would keep the debt limit at seven percent for cities, boroughs, school districts and townships, and ten percent for counties, but would base the limit on the average assessed value of taxable realty for ten years previous, instead of assessments for the current tax year. It carries a proviso that any local government may jump this debt limit by three percent to construct sewage treatment works. A third amendment provides for state graduated income and inheritance taxes, and the fourth requires that all citizens who vote in Pennsylvania must pay some form of state, county or local taxes. The amendments, started in the 1939 session, must come up in the new legislature of January, 1941, for another vote before they can be printed on the general election ballot in 1942. Publication of the proposed amendments now is to notify voters who will select new state representatives and senators in the November 5 election. Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

Fagundas Prepares For Old Home Day; Many are Expected

Once again the community of Fagundas is preparing for its Old Home Day, which will take place in the church grove on Saturday, August 17. The committee in charge of this year's gathering has issued the following announcement, which will be of interest to many Times-Mirror readers:

It is surprising how people return from far and near each year to renew old acquaintances and make new friends. Many were heard to remark that last year's gathering was the most enjoyable of all.

There will be refreshment stands for those who wish to buy lunches, or tables for picnic parties. With the large church and covered booths even the rain cannot spoil the day and we are looking forward to a large crowd and a pleasant reunion. The church is having a new roof put on and the proceeds from Old Home Day have helped in this way.

The afternoon program has always been open to those present and stories of Fagundas as a city are always interesting. We invite those who have photographs to kindly bring them.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Well, there's nothing for it, I've got to write about Elsie. I've got to, because the way things are going Elsie is going to steal the picture, Jack Oakie and Kay Francis and the others won't have a chance in "Little Men."

I'll start off by saying Elsie is wonderful, beautiful, and good. She's also the most surprisingly agreeable guest of honor a Hollywood cocktail party ever had. That's how I'll start off, taking it for granted that you know Elsie is a cow, American Jersey Cattle Club No. 988632 (real name You'll Do Lobelia). Her poise and serenity may be inherent, or may have been developed at the New York World's Fair. Believe me, she needs all the poise and serenity she can muster.

She needs it because the Messrs. Towne and Baker, her movie bosses, will stop at nothing. They didn't hesitate to give her a cocktail party. They gave it at Ciro's, a night spot with a maroon-and-blue decor, silky and satiny, reminiscent of boudoir scenes in romantic French novels.

ELsie arrived in her special truck, its sides modestly emblazoned with her name and the purpose of her visit to Hollywood (something, I hear, to do with a movie). She entered via the rear door, to thwart autograph hunters no doubt, and took her stance in a square of prop grass enclosed in daisy-garlanded rope. Elsie was accompanied by her retinue. This includes her mentor, Mr. Joyce, who reared her from calfhood and trained her horns to symmetry. Also in attendance for purposes apparently purely decorative) were two gingham milkmaids, Misses Pauline Easterday and Terry Sherer, recruited through RKO's casting office and earning $11 a day as photographer-bait for Elsie.

As guests entered they were announced, in stentorian tones, by a cross-suited dignitary who turned out on investigation to be Hugh Hattison, actor. Simultaneously, the orchestra (which strangely neglected pastoral merriment throughout the afternoon) tooted a greeting and Elsie tooted her tongue around her copious cud.

GUESTS saw Elsie in her party clothes, and she was a bovine dream. She wore a daring chapeau with flowers, yards of purple and green tulle studded with sequins framing her face softly; she wore a throw-around robe of violet velvet, monogrammed in gold letters. Around her tail was a big pink satin bow, around her neck a garland of metal daisies, on her left front ankle a gold bracelet, with bells. Her shoes were white kid—custom-made, and costing $50 a pair, or rather quartet. Costume-designer Eddie Stevenson could take a bow.

Elsie took her Hollywood as it came, unruffled. She never smiled, neither did she yawn, not even when Jack Oakie posed for pictures with the inevitable bucket. Elsie posed gracefully with almost everybody except Kay Francis, who arrived after Elsie had gone home.

The Messrs. Towne and Baker, devoted to Elsie and publicity, already are planning their next divinement, which I hear is a calf shower for Elsie, who has made no secret of her forthcoming bundle of joy.

REP. JARRETT IN INTERVIEW SCORES DRAFT

Sharon Herald: Congressman Benjamin Jarrett of Farrell is opposed to the administration's conscription bill and to the President's plan to call the National Guard into service.

Congressman Jarrett made known his stand on the controversial proposals in an interview at New Castle.

"Conditions are hectic in Washington these days," said Congressman Jarrett. The situation overseas is changing daily, and there never was such a need for sound thinking among officials of the government as there is today.

"Just now we are concerned with the proposed conscription bill. I am opposed to it in its present shape and favor the Vandenberg plan. It seems to me to be the wrong thing to do to conscript so many young men when we could get the same results by asking for enlistments in the army. Not for the usual three-year period but for the period the President asks for the conscripts, a year.

"There are thousands of able young men, without responsibilities who would be willing to volunteer for a year's service and an enlisted army would not disrupt the economic life of so many of our young men.

"As to the calling of the National Guard into service, I am opposed to that. It negates our defense plans and calls into service thousands of men who are married, who have established themselves, and takes many away from important defense industries.

"We must increase our standing army and we must strengthen our defenses. But this is no time for hysteria either individually or collectively. Nothing is to be gained by rushing headlong into any position without careful study. The ablest men in Congress today are convinced that a volunteer army can be raised if the time limit is placed at a year and this is what the President asks for conscripts."

The state elections bureau today corrected its advertisements of four proposed constitutional amendments that may go before the voters of Pennsylvania for a referendum in the 1942 gubernatorial election, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

The advertisement, which appeared in the Times-Mirror last Saturday and in newspapers throughout the state about the same time, stated that the amendments would come up for a vote of the people in the forthcoming general election.

Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, secretary of the commonwealth, explained an error was made in the caption. "The amendments will not be submitted to the electorate this year," she said. "The statement that they would was unnecessary in the caption."

Instead of reprinting the initial advertisement, she said the election bureau would have the copy corrected for two subsequent printings around September 5 and October 5.

Two of the proposed amendments would increase the debt limits of the various counties. One would permit all counties to increase their borrowing capacity from seven to 10 percent of the average assessed value of taxable realty for nine years previous, and allow Philadelphia to increase its borrowing capacity from ten to 12 percent.

A similar proposal would keep the debt limit at seven percent for cities, boroughs, school districts and townships, and ten percent for counties, but would base the limit on the average assessed value of taxable realty for ten years previous, instead of assessments for the current tax year. It carries a proviso that any local government may jump this debt limit by three percent to construct sewage treatment works.

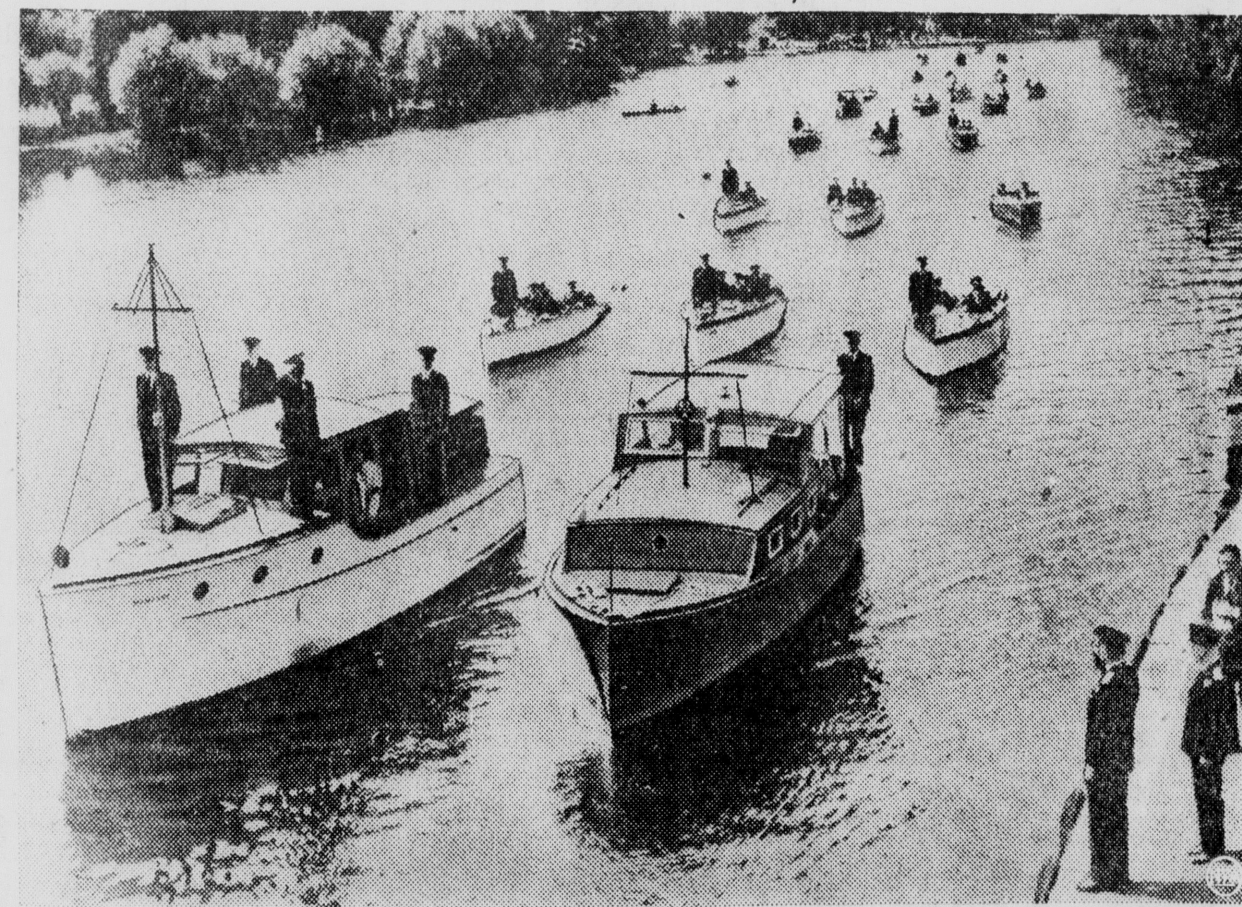

A third amendment provides for state graduated income and inheritance taxes, and the fourth requires that all citizens who vote in Pennsylvania must pay some form of state, county or local taxes.

The amendments, started in the 1939 session, must come up in the new legislature of January, 1941, for another vote before they can be printed on the general election ballot in 1942.

Publication of the proposed amendments now is to notify voters who will select new state representatives and senators in the November 5 election.
